COUGAR GREATS – RETIRED NUMBERS

1927-31
Mel Hein

7

Mel Hein, a consensus pick as the greatest center in football, was the first player to have his jersey retired at Washington State University.

Hein wore his famous No. 7 throughout his collegiate and professional career.

An All-America pick following the 1930 season, Hein helped lead the Cougars to an undefeated record that year and into the 1931 Rose Bowl Game against Alabama. WSU lost that game 24-0, but WSU's record in Hein's three varsity seasons was 26-6.

Beside his All-America selection his senior year, he was an All-West Coast pick after having been named to the All-Coast second team as a junior.

He was also a basketball player, starting at center his junior year for coach Jack Friel's club.

From WSU it was on to the New York Giants, where he played 15 years. Hein was inducted as a charter member into the National Football League Hall of Fame. He was also inducted as a charter member into the Washington State University Athletic Hall of Fame on Oct. 20, 1978, and is a member of the Washington State Sports Hall of Fame and the Inland Empire Sports Hall of Fame.

Eight times an All-Pro center, he was the NFL's most valuable player in 1938. He coached four years, both as head coach and as an assistant.

From 1966-67 he was the supervisor of officials for the American Football League.

In 1969, Hein was voted one of the 11 all-time best professional and collegiate football players in a vote conducted in conjunction with professional football's Centennial celebration.

The Washington State University Board of Regents honored Hein May 14, 1983, with its Distinguished Alumnus Award, the highest award bestowed a Cougar alum.

Hein is also a charter member of The College Hall of Fame, one of two Cougars honored by the National Football Foundation.

In 1999, he was one of three centers named to The Sporting News All-Century team for college players.

1974-78
Jack Thompson

14

Jack Thompson finished his career in 1978 as the most prolific passer in the history of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Thompson, who was granted a fifth year after missing the 1974 campaign with a knee injury, passed for 7,818 yards for a NCAA record. He became the fourth quarterback in NCAA history to pass for 2,000 yards or more in three seasons.

He established Pacific-10 Conference and WSU records for passes attempted (1,086), passes completed (601), and total plays (1,345). He tied the conference mark for touchdown passes (53) and touchdowns responsible for (63).

Other NCAA career accomplishments by Thompson placed him third in total offense with 7,698 yards, third in pass completions with 601 and tied for fifth with his 53 TD tosses. He became the first junior in the history of the conference to surpass the 5,000 yard barrier in passing.

In 1976 he set a conference record for passing yards with 2,762, completions (208) and touchdown passes (20). He was an All-Pac-8 first team pick as voted by the coaches, All-West Coast UPI first team and a second team AP pick, All-America honorable mention by AP and two-time Pac-8 player of the week.

In 1977 he was named to the All-Pac-8, AP and UPI All-WestCoast second teams and was named an AP All-America honorable mention.

Prior to the 1978 campaign he was a Playboy All-America pick and appeared on the cover of Street and Smith Magazine. He was All-Pac-10 first team and UPI All-West Coast second team. Following the season he played in the Challenge Bowl and was named MVP, and played in the Hula Bowl. The National Football League scouts voted him to the Sporting News All-America first team.

Thompson was the third player selected in the 1979 NFL draft, going to the Cincinnati Bengals. He later played for Tampa Bay.

He was only the second football player and the third athlete in WSU history to have his jersey retired.
