MARTIN STADIUM HISTORY

NAME: Clarence D. Martin Stadium and Academic Center
CAPACITY: 35,117

HISTORY

1892—Built as Soldier Field;
1895 (November 9)—WSU defeated Idaho 10-4 in the first football game on Soldier Field;
1902—The field was renamed Rogers Field in honor of the Governor of the State of Washington, John R. Rogers;
1936—Washington State College built a completely new football stadium, but retained the same name; the new stadium was an all-wood structure built on concrete pilings. The field also featured new stands, an enlarged press box and an electronic scoreboard;
1970 (April)—Fire destroyed the south stands; a one-million dollar fund drive began after the decision was made to rebuild the stands rather than relocate or build an entirely new stadium; Dan Martin, a Los Angeles businessman, gave $250,000 to the project with the stipulation the stadium be renamed after his father, Clarence D. Martin. Clarence Martin was Governor of the State from 1933-40;
1972 (summer)—first artificial turf (Astroturf) was installed;
1972 (Sept. 30)—WSU met Utah in the first game played in refurbished Martin Stadium;
1975—New north (student) stands were built;
1978 (fall)—Work began on the academic portion of the complex on the south side with the computer center relocating to the complex upon completion of the project in 1979;
1979 (January)—Another renovation of the stadium began to increase the seating capacity from 27,600 to 40,000; the floor of the stadium was excavated 16 feet to add 12,400 seats; the track was removed from the stadium and relocated to the Bailey Baseball Stadium area directly north of the football complex, while a new baseball stadium was then built just south and east of Friel Court, home of Cougar basketball; the entire project, like the one in 1970, was funded through contributions; gift-in-kind and the purchase of “stadium builder” seat options; it marked the first time a collegiate football stadium had been enlarged by digging down rather than building up; the project was also funded in part by the Martin family, with Charlotte Martin, widow of Dan Martin, giving $250,000 to the project; a SuperTurf artificial surface was installed;
1979 (October 13)—WSU celebrated Homecoming by defeating UCLA 17-13 before a record crowd of 32,651 in the first game played in the enlarged Martin Stadium;
1990 (summer)—Installed the sand-filled Omni-Turf playing surface.
2000 (summer)—Installed FieldTurf in Martin Stadium and on Rogers Field.
2006 —Current stadium renovation began.
2006 (summer)—Replaced FieldTurf in Martin Stadium
2008 —Phase I and II completed.

Martin Stadium, home of Cougar Football, and the adjacent Rogers Field, WSU’s practice facility, both feature FieldTurf, the closest artificial playing surface to grass. In 2000 WSU became just the second NCAA Division I team to install the latest innovation in artificial playing surfaces. During the summer of 2006 FieldTurf installed its latest product in Martin Stadium, providing WSU players with the very best playing surface available. Rogers Field was resurfaced during the summer of 2010

Outland Trophy Winner

RIEN LONG

THE OUTLAND TROPHY

Rien Long became Washington State's first national individual award winner in 2002, winning the prestigious Outland Trophy at the ESPN College Football Awards Show held in Orlando, Fla.

The Outland Trophy is presented by the Football Writers' Association of America each year to the nation's outstanding collegiate interior lineman. It was first presented in 1946 to John Outland, an All-American tackle at the University of Pennsylvania.

Long paved the way toward the honor by dominating the line of scrimmage throughout his junior season. The Anacortes, Wash., native was the national leader among defensive tackles in sacks (13.0) and tackles-for-loss (21.5).

Long's most impressive sequence of the season came in the over-time period of Washington State's 30-27, Oct. 5 victory over USC. On back-to-back plays, Long sacked eventual Heisman Trophy winner Carson Palmer for a loss of seven yards, then brought running back Justin Fargas down five yards behind the line of scrimmage to force the Trojans into an unsuccessful 52-yard field goal. WSU's Drew Dunning would win the game with a 35-yard kick three plays later.

Long's play became impossible to ignore Nov. 2 when No. 16 Arizona State and No. 8 WSU clashed for the outright lead in the Pac-10. Once again, Long was a disruptive force, compiling four tackles-for-loss and three sacks in a 44-22 win that catapulted the Cougars toward the Pac-10 title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

FULLBACK

After making a midseason switch last year, Jared Byers returns as the Cougars' primary fullback in 2010. The sophomore starred at Pullman High School prior to walking on to the WSU Football team and began the season at linebacker. He switched to fullback in the week of practice leading up to the Oregon game, burned his redshirt and played that week against the Ducks, and was entrenched in the position for the remainder of the season, making two starts.

Coach Wulff on WSU's fullbacks...

"We were very impressed with Jared last season. He came over to the offensive side of the ball late, but he blocked well and caught the ball well, and we feel comfortable with him entering this season."

OFFENSIVE LINE

The Cougars were decimated by injuries along the offensive line in 2009, but with all of the experience gained during the season, 2010 could shape up to be a much different story. Despite losing second-team All-Pacific-10 Conference center Kenny Alfred, the unquestioned leader of the Cougar offense and a mainstay at the position for the last four seasons, WSU's offensive line could prove to be the team's deepest position this year and one of the major strengths of the squad.

Offensive line coach Steve Morton rejoined the Cougar staff this season, and he has stated unequivocally that his linemen should be able to play every position along the line. There was some shuffling of the line during spring camp and it is no secret in Pullman that the best five linemen will start, and with a new position coach – one that has coached five Morris Trophy recipients – the offensive line is in good hands.

Redshirt senior Micah Hannam has started every game of his Cougar career, all 37 of which at right tackle. The veteran of the Cougars' offensive line will still be battling come fall camp however, fighting to earn the starting nod at either of the tackle positions. Junior college transfers Wade Jacobson and David Gonzales impressed the coaching staff during the spring, and each will be fighting Hannam for the starting job – Jacobson at left tackle and Gonzales at right tackle. Alex Reitnouer was forced to burn his redshirt in 2009, and the sophomore could push for playing time at tackle in 2010.

Moving inside, the Cougars have legitimate all-conference candidates in redshirt senior Zack Williams (left guard) and redshirt junior B.J. Guerra (right guard). Each started just seven games in 2009 due to injury, though Williams was one of the most imposing guards in the conference when healthy and Guerra gave the Cougars a strong inside presence when on the field. Tyson Pencer started at left tackle in 2009, but with the depth outside, the Canadian is slated to move inside in 2010. He and redshirt freshman Sebastian Valenzuela could push for playing time, and will enter fall camp backing up Williams and Guerra. Redshirt sophomore Michael Pfeiff, a walk-on who has impressed the coaching staff in practice, is also listed on the depth chart.

Redshirt junior Andrew Roxas is the only player not named Kenny Alfred to start at center for the Cougars during the past three seasons, filling in as a true freshman in 2007. After missing 2009 with an illness, Roxas is expected to start in the middle in 2010. Expected to back up Roxas are redshirt senior Chris Prummer, who backed up Alfred in 2009, and redshirt freshman Elliott Bosch, who made the switch from tight end to center during the spring.

Coach Wulff on WSU's offensive line...

"We were hit hard up front by injuries last season, which really limited what we were able to do offensively. I think you're going to see an improvement on the offensive side of the ball, and it starts with the offensive line. We have a lot more depth here than we did last year. With another offseason in the weight room, and the experience we gained last season, this could definitely be one of the strengths of our team."

QUARTERBACK

Jeff Tuel grabbed a lot of headlines when he took off the redshirt in the second quarter against USC in 2009. The following week against Oregon he became the first true freshman quarterback to start for the Cougars since former first overall draft selection Drew Bledsoe. The Ducks knocked him out of the game in the first quarter, but he returned to start the following week against Arizona State. He strung together three-straight multiple-touchdown games, and amassed 354 passing yards against California. In just his fifth start, he suffered a sprained knee in the second quarter against Arizona, and he missed the season's final three games. Tuel played virtually a quarter of the season, yet still led WSU in completions (71), completion percentage (58.7), yards (789) and touchdowns (six), and the sophomore enters fall camp as the Cougars' top signal caller.

If there is anything WSU has learned the last two seasons, it's that injuries can happen at any moment – especially at the quarterback position. Redshirt junior Marshall Lobbestael was never fully recovered last season from a knee injury suffered in 2008, but he was forced to play in nine games regardless. He attempted more passes than any other WSU quarterback (144) in 2009, and enters fall camp as the No. 2 quarterback. A healthy Lobbestael could push for time, and he has plenty of experience should his number get called.

Redshirt junior Dan Wagner – both a back-up punter and reserve quarterback – has been forced to step in at quarterback each of the last two seasons. He and redshirt freshman David Gilbertson, who impressed the coaching staff after walking on prior to the 2009 season, will back-up Tuel and Lobbestael.

Coach Wulff on WSU's quarterbacks...

"Jeff showed flashes of what we thought he would be when we recruited him, but he still has a lot of room to grow as a quarterback. Marshall was still hurt last season, but he played through it and he has had an excellent offseason. Overall, we are very comfortable at quarterback, and we feel we have multiple guys who can play in the Pac-10."

RUNNING BACK

Dwight Tardy led the Cougars in rushing in each of the last four seasons, the first known running back in school history to accomplish the feat. He has moved on however, and the Cougars will be looking for his replacement in fall camp.

Redshirt senior Chantz Staden was WSU's third-leading rusher in 2008, but a knee injury forced him to miss last season. He looked completely healed during the spring, and enters fall camp atop the depth chart. Redshirt junior Logwone Mitz (53) and sophomore Carl Winston (36) are the only other running backs who received double-digit carries last season, but each have shown flashes and could push for playing time with strong showings this fall. Redshirt senior Marcus Richmond, who has played both wide receiver and running back, could also see carries in 2010.

Redshirt senior James Montgomery was the only Cougar to rush for more than 100 yards in a game in 2009, but he played in just three before a major leg injury suffered against SMU ended his season. Initially thought to be a possible career-ending injury, Montgomery has been cleared to play in 2010. If he is able to return to form, he is a leading candidate to take over for Tardy.

Coach Wulff on WSU's running backs...

"Fall camp should see a healthy competition at running back. Chantz had an excellent spring, but most of the other guys were nicked up at some point and didn't have much of a chance to show what they could do. James has been cleared to play, but we need to see him in live action to see how much of his old form he has regained. It's truly amazing that he has even got himself to this point. We have a couple guys coming in as freshmen who are extremely talented, and a couple more who have had nice offseasons."

TIGHT END

With a couple of highly-touted recruits joining the fray this fall, the competition at tight end is definitely going to be one to watch.

The leading contender to replace the departed Tony Thompson is redshirt sophomore Skylar Stormo, one of just two returners to make a start in 2009 (Zach Tatman). His three career receptions are also the most amongst the group.

Redshirt sophomore Andrei Lintz was a part of the tight end rotation last season, as was Tatman, a redshirt senior who was granted a sixth year of eligibility during the offseason, and both should see time on the field. Redshirt senior Aaron Gehring is also listed on the depth chart.

Coach Wulff on WSU's tight ends...

"We have most of our tight end rotation back from last season, and we have a couple of players coming in that we really like. This is another position where guys are going to have an opportunity to step up and take the job during fall camp."

WIDE RECEIVER

Each of WSU's three starters at wide receiver from last year returns. Junior Jared Karstetter garnered honorable mention All-Pacific-10 Conference honors in 2009 following his 38-catch, 540-yard, six-touchdown campaign. He started all 12 games at the Cougars' Z receiver position. Senior Daniel Blackledge is penciled in to start opposite Karstetter at WSU's X receiver position after catching 23 passes for 212 yards in 2009. Redshirt senior Jeffrey Solomon played both inside and outside last season, starting seven games. The third-leading receiver in 2009, Solomon is listed as the back-up to both Blackledge and Karstetter, but the versatile receiver should see plenty of action in 2010.

Sophomore Gino Simone started 11 of WSU's 12 games in 2009 at the flanker position, missing only the SMU game with a concussion. He caught passes in 10 games, including at least one in each of his first eight. Simone ranked second on the team in both receptions (36) and yards (330), and enters fall camp as WSU's starter at flanker. Backing up Simone is slated to be junior college transfer Isiah Barton. The junior from Los Angeles led the Valley Conference in all-purpose yards last season (141.8 per game) and caught 48 passes for 715 yards and seven touchdowns.

Coach Wulff on WSU's wide receivers...

"We have four guys coming back who gained a lot of experience last season, but we are going to need to see improvement from our wide receivers. Entering last year, only Jared and Daniel had seen Pac-10 action. With a year under their belt now, we really need to see a big jump from these guys for our offense to keep progressing. A couple of the freshmen may have to play, and Isiah will see the field. We are hoping that the competition this fall elevates the game of everyone at each of our wideout positions.”

DEFENSIVE BACK

WSU’s defensive backs were one of a number of units hit hard by injuries in 2009. Tyree Toomer was forced to redshirt due to a torn pectoral muscle, and LeAndre Daniels and Daniel Simmons each had their seasons ended early with broken legs. But all three are healthy now, and the Cougars will have them back in the fold in addition to a number of players who redshirted.

Chima Nwachukwu

Simmons, a redshirt sophomore, and redshirt junior Aire Justin enter fall camp as WSU’s starting cornerbacks. Both started for the Cougars in 2009, as did redshirt sophomore Terrance Heyward. Redshirt freshman Nolan Washington is expected to contribute, and could push for a starting role as he continues to progress. Redshirt freshman Anthony Carpenter can play both corner and safety, but he enters fall camp on the outside. Redshirt senior Anthony Houston suffered an Achilles injury this summer and will miss most of the season.

Senior Chima Nwachukwu began last season as one of WSU’s starting corners, but moved to safety with the injury to Daniels. He will begin fall camp as the Cougars’ starting strong safety, but his versatility allows him to play anywhere in the secondary. Daniels, a redshirt sophomore, is fully recovered from his broken leg and is expected to start opposite Nwachukwu at free safety.

Toomer, a redshirt sophomore, missed all of last season, but was vying for a starting role prior to the injury after gaining valuable experience as a true freshman in 2008. He and redshirt freshman Jamal Atofau could see plenty of action in 2010. Redshirt freshman Casey Locker and redshirt sophomores Jay Matthews and Kyle McCartney give the team added depth at safety. Matthews started in 2009 and McCartney was a special teams standout, but each suffered injuries last season.

Coach Wulff on WSU’s defensive backs...

“Much like the offensive line, we have a lot more depth in the secondary this year because so many had to play last season. We have four guys on the roster right now that we are comfortable with at corner, specifically Daniel Simmons – he played very well there last season before his injury. We also have quite a few guys at safety that will push each other and provide daily competition for playing time. Chima Nwachukwu can play both corner and safety, so he gives us depth at each spot. We also have some players who redshirted last year that could have played at both safety and corner. With a year under their belt and a winter in the weight room, I expect to see an improvement in our defensive backfield.”

DEFENSIVE LINE

Travis Long was the only Cougar to start every game along the Cougar defensive line in 2009, and he was a true freshman. He proved he belonged however, garnering honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors. Slated to start opposite Long was Kevin Kooyman, but his season was ended one week in. Kooyman redshirted, and is fully recovered entering this spring. Long and Kooyman give the Cougars a pair of starting defensive ends with Pac-10 experience.

Kevin Kooyman

With the injuries along the line, Casey Hamlett started eight games for WSU after transferring from Western Washington. He is slated to back up Kooyman, and gives the Cougars a third option at the position. Jordan Pu’u Robinson and Sekope Kaufusi each redshirted last season, but both are expected to be contributors in 2010. Redshirt sophomore Adam Coerper is also listed on the depth chart.

At defensive tackle, redshirt senior Bernard Wolfgramm – who started eight games in 2009 – and redshirt junior Brandon Rankin enter fall camp as the starters. Rankin, a four-star recruit and the 2008 National Junior College Defensive Player of the Year, impressed the coaching staff during spring ball.

Redshirt sophomore Anthony Laurenzi and junior college transfer Steven Hoffart will be vying for playing time at defensive tackle this season. Justin Clayton redshirted last season, and is also looking to join the tackle rotation.

Coach Wulff on WSU’s defensive line...

“The defensive line was another position that was hit pretty hard last year by injuries. We are hoping that another offseason in the weight room will prevent the same thing from happening in 2010. Travis Long was everything we hoped he’d be when we signed him, and he will continue to progress this season. Casey Hamlett also played well last year, we get Kevin Kooyman for another season after his injury last year, and Jordan Pu’u-Robinson and Sekope Kaufusi have shown a lot of promise, so we feel pretty good about our defensive ends. At tackle, we are going to have to see how much these guys improved in the offseason. Bernard Wolfgramm and Brandon Rankin, who we moved to tackle this spring, could give us a presence in the middle that we haven’t had the last couple years. Steven Hoffart, Anthony Laurenzi and Justin Clayton will also make contributions this year.”

LINEBACKER

Andy Mattingly and Jason Stripling each started most of last season as the Cougars’ outside linebackers, but both have exhausted their eligibility. The other mainstay amongst WSU’s linebacking corps, Alex Hoffman-Ellis, hadn’t played much football prior to last season. He stepped right in as WSU’s middle linebacker and went on to lead the Cougars in tackles with 84. Now a redshirt junior, he has tremendous speed and will move to the Will linebacker position for 2010. Redshirt freshman Arthur Burns made the switch from running back to linebacker midseason, and will back up Hoffman-Ellis entering fall camp.

At the Sam position, redshirt senior Myron Beck will open fall camp as the starter. Beck has played both safety and linebacker the past two seasons with the Cougars, and he recorded 41 tackles and two interceptions in 2009, one of which he returned for a touchdown. Louis Bland should also be in the mix if healthy. Bland was limited to six games due to injury last season, but the playmaker still posted 42 tackles, four tackles-for-loss, one sack and an interception.

Mike Ledgerwood enters fall camp as the leading candidate to man the middle linebacker position in 2010. He started against both California and Oregon State in 2009, averaging 8.5 tackles in the two starts. Senior Hallston Higgins impressed the coaching staff during spring football, and will be vying for field time during fall camp. Also in the mix is Darren Markle, who redshirted last season.

Coach Wulff on WSU’s linebackers...

“We moved Alex Hoffman-Ellis outside this spring, and his speed is going to allow him to make a lot of plays. Hallston Higgins had a great spring, and he and Mike Ledgerwood could have a nice battle at middle linebacker. Myron Beck was a playmaker at times for us last season, and he could be a very good player. We don’t have a lot of experience at the linebacker position, but there are definitely some guys here that can play, including a couple that redshirted last season. If Louis Bland is healthy, we will have more versatility and more experience available.”

SPECIAL TEAMS

Both WSU’s starting kicker and punter return from last season. Redshirt senior Nico Grasu has won games each of the last two seasons with his leg, and he enters fall camp as the Cougars’ top kicker. Blake Dunn joined the team last season during fall camp, and he will be pushing Grasu for the kickers’ job.

Reid Forrest

Redshirt senior Reid Forrest punted more than anyone in the country last season, and still averaged 43.2 yards per punt, a mark that ranked 21st-nationally. He booted 18 punts of more than 50 yards in 2009, including four of more than 60 yards. Forrest, who also serves as WSU’s holder on kicks, will be backed up once again by Dan Wagner, who the last two seasons has served as both a backup punter and backup quarterback.

Another mainstay on WSU’s special teams units has been long snapper Zach Enyeart. The redshirt senior grabbed the starting job against Idaho as a redshirt freshman in 2007, and he has been entrenched in the position ever since.

Coach Wulff on WSU’s special teams...

“Reid Forrest is one of the best punters in the country, and he is a great weapon to have on a football team. Nico Grasu has made some clutch, game-winning kicks, but we are really going to need him to be more consistent. We have a couple more kickers on the roster now, and there will be competition at the kicker spot. We are going to be much faster on special teams this year, and we should make some great strides in every area.”

2010 Coaches

Paul Wulff

Head Coach

Third Season

Paul Wulff enters his third season on the Cougar sideline after being named Washington’s State’s 31st head coach, Dec. 10, 2007. With his appointment Wulff became the first WSU football letterwinner and graduate to lead the Cougars since Phil Sarboe served as head coach from 1945-49.

A 1990 graduate of WSU and a four-year letterwinner, Wulff’s first season leading the Cougars proved difficult as the transition to a new head coach combined, with numerous injuries, resulted in a 2-11 record. WSU’s lone conference win came in dramatic fashion as the Cougars needed a last-second field goal in regulation, and again in double overtime, to defeat Washington 16-13 in the Apple Cup.

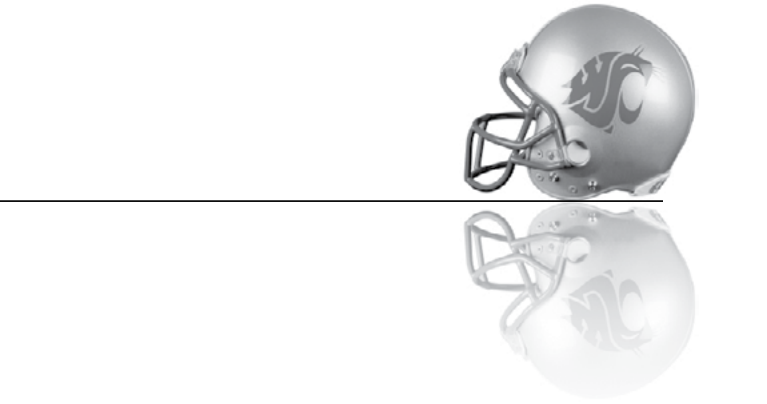

Wulff’s second season was once again marred by injuries, yet progress was being made as 13 freshmen and 23 players overall made their first-collegiate starts. The bright spot of the year came in week three as WSU fought back from a 13-point fourth-quarter deficit to defeat SMU in overtime, 30-27.

Prior to Washington State, Wulff spent the previous 15 seasons at Eastern Washington University, the final eight as head coach. There he amassed a record of 53-40. During his eight-year head coaching tenure Wulff was named Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year three times (2001, 2004, 2005) and led the Eagles into the Football Championship Subdivision playoffs three times in the last four years. He enters the 2010 campaign with a 56-62 career head coaching record in 10 seasons.

In 2007 he guided the Eagles to a 9-4 mark, including a quarterfinal appearance at the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision Playoffs, falling to two-time defending champion Appalachian State. It marked the seventh time in his eight years at Eastern that his teams posted winning records.

“Obviously this has been a dream of mine since I joined the coaching profession,” said Wulff upon his hiring. “It is my alma mater, a university with great tradition and a program I feel very strongly about. WSU is an important place in my development as a human being with respect to the university culture. Being named head coach is the biggest honor I have ever received and I am excited about the opportunity.

“Twenty-two years ago, in February of 1985, I signed a letter of intent to Washington State University. I was obligated to that, and I committed to it, and I chose this university over five other Pac-10 schools at that time. I am back 22 years later, and I am committed for another five years. I will make the most of it and do everything in my power to create an environment that everyone who is a

Cougar can be proud of. “It’s going to take some work,” Wulff continued. “There is some building we need to do and some culture changes we need to make. We need to put ourselves in a position where everybody can be proud of the student-athletes in this program both on and off the field on a consistent basis.”

Wulff began his coaching career at EWU in 1993 as a volunteer assistant working with the offensive line. He was named offensive line/strength coach the following season and spent four years in the position before being promoted to offensive coordinator/offensive line/strength coach in 1998.

Following two seasons as the team’s offensive coordinator, Wulff was named head coach at Eastern prior to the 2000 season. He guided the Eagles to six-straight winning seasons and seven overall during his eight-year tenure.

Wulff’s 2005 team was loaded with experience, talent and leadership, featuring a group of seniors that included the Big Sky’s Offensive and Defensive MVP’s (Erik Meyer and Joey Cwik), and featured a trio of All-Americans (Meyer, Eric Kimble and Matt Alfred). Meyer would go on to win the Walter Payton Award as the best football player in the Football Championship Subdivision. Together, Meyer and Kimble rewrote Eastern’s record book as they combined for 27 school records and four Big Sky marks.

Meyer set a FCS record for passing efficiency rating (166.47 with 10,261 yards, 84 touchdowns, just 17 interceptions and a .657 completion rate), while Kimble’s 46 touchdown grabs ranked second in FCS history behind the 50 of legendary Jerry Rice. The Eagles finished 7-5 and won the Big Sky title with a 5-2 record before losing to eventual national runner-up Northern Iowa in the first round of the playoffs.

The 2004 season was also special, even after the Eagles opened the season 0-2. Eastern won eight of its next nine games - most by substantial margins - as the Eagles closed the year with a 51-44 overtime victory at Montana State to secure a place in the playoffs. Quarterback Erik Meyer was named the league’s Offensive Player of the Year and was a finalist for the Walter Payton Award. Senior offensive tackle Michael Roos joined Meyer, wide receiver Eric Kimble and guard Rocky Hanni as All-Americans, with Roos eventually being taken in the second round of the NFL draft by the Tennessee Titans.

In 2004, Wulff’s squad finished 9-4 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the playoffs. The crowning glory came when the Eagles knocked off No. 1-ranked and top-seeded Southern Illinois in the first round.

Statistically, the 2004 and 2005 teams were nearly identical with each finishing the year ranked fourth in FCS in total offense. In 2005 the Eagles averaged 477.8 yards per game, and were 14th in scoring (35.0). A year earlier the Eagles averaged 475.5 yards and 37.5 points per game to rank sixth.

Wulff coached 21 players to 54 Football Championship Subdivision (formerly Division I-AA) All-America honors in his first seven years at the helm of the EWU program, and two more of his players were named to the Sports Network’s 2007 FCS All-America team at the conclusion of last year. Of the 21 players to earn All-America recognition, 15 have been offensive lineman.

Additionally, Wulff has mentored 15 players who have earned 18 total CoSIDA Academic All-District VIII honors and a total of 131 All-Big Sky Conference Academic team members.

As a student-athlete and four-year starter at center for the Cougars from 1986-89, Wulff was an All-America honoree himself as a senior, earning honorable mention accolades from The Sporting News. Wulff started at center under three different coaches after redshirting in 1985. He played for Jim Walden in 1986, Dennis Erickson from 1987-88 and Mike Price in 1989. He was also the starting center on WSU’s 1988 Aloha Bowl championship team.

After a successful collegiate career Wulff had a brief pro career as a center after graduating from WSU in 1990. He signed a free agent contract with the New York Jets, but was released after injuring an ankle and a rib in the preseason. He played in spring 1991 with Raleigh-Durham of the World League, then played in spring 1992 with New York-New Jersey.

A 1985 graduate of Davis High School in Davis, Calif., Wulff played for three different coaches while he was at WSU. He redshirted in 1985 and started four games at guard in 1986 under Jim Walden.

Dennis Erickson directed the program in 1987 and 1988 with Wulff as his starting center both years. In 1988, the Cougars were victorious in the Aloha Bowl as Wulff earned honorable mention All-Pacific-10 Conference honors.

Under Mike Price in 1989, Wulff earned second-team all-conference honors and was an honorable mention selection on The Sporting News All-America squad. He was also WSU’s long snapper during his stay there.

Wulff was born Feb. 25, 1967, in Woodland, Calif. He and his wife Sherry have a 14-year-old daughter, Katie, and two sons, six-year-old Max and three-year-old Sam.

Chris Ball
Assistant Head Coach
Co-Defensive Coordinator
Safeties
Third Season

Chris Ball, 45, begins his third season as Assistant Head Coach/Co-Defensive Coordinator/Safeties. Ball arrived at WSU after spending the 2007 season as secondary coach at the University of Pittsburgh under head coach Dave Wannstedt. During his only campaign the Panthers ranked fourth nationally in pass defense (167.3 ypg) and seventh in total defense (297.7 ypg).

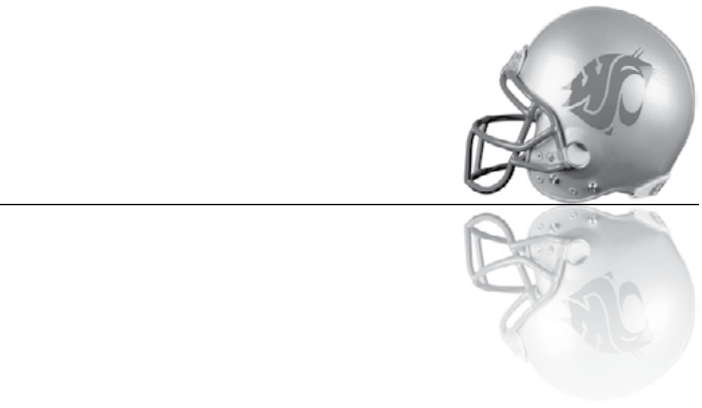

Prior to that Ball served four seasons coaching the secondary at Alabama, having moved from Pullman when Mike Price was named head coach at Alabama following the 2002 season. While at Alabama, Ball coached a Crimson Tide secondary that in 2004 led the nation in pass defense, allowing just 113.1 passing yards per game. That same year Alabama ranked second in pass efficiency defense.

The following season the Alabama secondary ranked fifth in both pass defense (160.8 ypg) and pass efficiency defense (97.8 rating), and the Crimson Tide ranked second nationally in total defense. In 2006 Ball oversaw the progress of free safety Roman Harper, who earned All-SEC honors and was a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, presented annually to the nation's top defensive back.

From 2000-02 Ball served under Price coaching WSU's defensive backs, mentoring such Cougar greats as Lamont Thompson, Jason David, Marcus Trufant and Erik Coleman. During his three seasons WSU's defense compiled 56 interceptions, including 26 during the 2001 campaign, which tied for second nationally. That season Thompson set a WSU single-season record and led the Pacific-10 Conference with 10 interceptions en route to All-America honors.

The following season Trufant earned first-team All-Pac-10 and second-team All-America honors under the tutelage of Ball. Trufant, who was drafted 11th overall by the Seahawks in 2003, was part of a secondary that included three other future NFL players: David, Coleman and Hamza Abdullah.

The St. Louis, Mo., native and 1981 graduate of Webster Grove

High played football at Missouri Western State College and later served as a graduate assistant and defensive coordinator at his alma mater.

The 1985 All-American defensive back coached at both Northeast Missouri State (1986-87) and Akron (1987-88) before joining Price's staff in 1989. He coached at Coffeyville Community College (1990-94), Western Oregon State College (1995-96) and Missouri Western State (1997-98). Prior to joining the Cougar staff in 2000, Ball spent the 1999 season as defensive coordinator for Idaho State Head Coach Larry Lewis.

Ball and his wife Tandi have two children, son Brennan (17) and daughter Abigail (6).

Mike Levenseller
Wide Receivers
19th Season

The senior statesman on the Washington State coaching staff, Mike Levenseller is in his 19th year on the Cougar sideline, where he serves as wide receivers coach on Paul Wulff's staff.

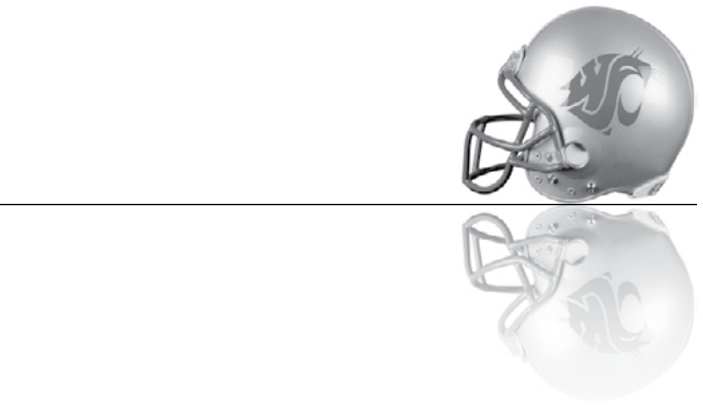

Levenseller has been with WSU since the beginning of the 1992 season, when he began working with Cougar wide receivers under then-head coach Mike Price. Prior to the 2001 season, Levenseller added offensive coordinator duties to his day-to-day work with wide receivers. As the offensive coordinator, the Cougar pass offense finished in the top 21 nationally each season, including eighth in 2007, 10th in 2001 and 13th in 2002. WSU finished in the top 20 nationally in total offense in each of his first two years as coordinator, including an eighth-place finish in 2005.

Levenseller and eight other receivers he has coached comprise WSU's single-season top 10 receiving yardage list, including Brandon Gibson, who set the single-season record with 1,180 receiving yards in 2007. Under Levenseller's guidance, Jason Hill broke the 1,000-yard mark twice (2005-06), becoming the only WSU receiver with two 1,000-yard campaigns.

Additionally, five different receivers have recorded 1,000-yard seasons under Levenseller, while 11 different players have spent time with NFL clubs.

Prior to returning to Washington State, Levenseller coached wide receivers for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League (1990-91), where he mentored the league's receiver of the year in 1990 (Darrell Smith) and 1991 (Raghib Ismail). He began his coaching career in 1986 with the British Columbia Lions of the CFL, working with wide receivers as a guest coach.

A sixth-round draft pick by the Oakland Raiders of the 1978 NFL Draft, Levenseller spent three years in the NFL with Buffalo, Tampa Bay and Cincinnati, was a member of the Grey Cup-winning Edmonton Eskimos in 1982 and concluded his playing career with Calgary, 1983-85, of the CFL.

Levenseller completed his WSU playing career by being selected to the Pacific-8 First Team, the AP All-West Coast First Team and the AP All-America honorable mention squad in 1978. A two-time All-Pac-8 and AP All-West Coach First Team selection, Levenseller caught 121 passes in his career, which ranked third on WSU's all-time list and eighth on the league list. His 2,061 career receiving yards ranked second on WSU's all-time list, as he was one of only seven receivers to top 2,000 yards in Pac-8 history.

In 1992 he was inducted into the WSU Athletic Hall of Fame, and in 2006 was inducted into the Pacific Northwest Football Hall of Fame. Levenseller and his wife, Allison, have a son J.T. and daughter Jordan, who plays volleyball at Washington State University.

Steve Morton

Offensive Line

First Season

Former Cougar football player and assistant coach Steve Morton returned to Pullman for his second stint as a Cougar coach, Jan. 15, 2010, joining Paul Wulff’s staff as the offensive line coach.

The 2010 season will mark Morton’s 36th as a collegiate coach and second stint as offensive line coach. Morton began his coaching career in 1975 as a Washington State graduate assistant under Jim Walden. He became a full-time assistant coach at his alma mater in 1977 and spent the next 10 seasons in Pullman. He mentored such Cougars as Mike Utley, Dan Lynch, Jim Michalczik, Pat Beach, Chris Dyko and Paul Wulff.

In 1987 Morton followed Walden to Iowa State University, where he spent the next five seasons. He returned to the Pac-10 in 1992, joining Washington staff as offensive line coach. After seven seasons and five bowl appearances, he moved to the USC (1999-2000). He was at the Nevada (2001) before completing three seasons (2002-2004) as the Stanford offensive line coach.

Morton has coached five Pac-10 Morris Trophy winners, signifying the conference’s best lineman, including Lynch in 1984. Additionally he has mentored four first-team All-America players, and NFL first-round draft choices Kwame Harris of Stanford and Lincoln Kennedy of Washington.

Morton spent the past five season at San Jose State, the first as offensive line coach and the last four as offensive coordinator.

As a player, he was a center and offensive guard on the 1973 and 1974 Washington State teams, playing for head coach Jim Sweeney. He graduated in 1977 with a degree in physical Morton and his wife Karen have two adult children, son Beau and daughter Bethany. He also has a son-in-law, Zech Bordon, and a grandson, Caleb.

Travis Niekamp

Linebackers

Third Season

When Paul Wulff began putting his staff together after being named Washington State University’s head football coach in December 2007, he didn’t have to look far for his linebackers coach. Travis Niekamp, who coached linebackers on Wulff’s staff at Eastern Washington University from 2004-07, arrived with Wulff in Pullman in a similar role. Niekamp, now in his third year at WSU, is one of five former EWU coaches from Wulff’s staff at EWU now serving on the Cougars’ coaching staff.

In his first year in Pullman, Niekamp coached Louis Bland to Phil Steele’s Freshman All-America Third Team honors and Greg Trent to his second mention on the All-Pacific-10 Conference Team.

In 2004, his first year at Eastern, Niekamp coached a pair of All-Big Sky Conference linebackers in Joey Cwik (first team) and Doug Vincent (honorable mention). In 2005 Cwik repeated as a first team all-conference pick and was named the Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year, capping a career that saw him register 331 tackles, fourth-best in school history. Also in 2005 David Eneberg was an all-conference honorable mention selection, which he repeated in 2006. In all Niekamp coached eight different players to 10 All-Big Sky Conference honors

Before joining the Eastern Washington staff in 2004, Niekamp had spent the previous four years at the United States Military Academy, where he coached tight ends. While with the Black Knights, he coached with current WSU co-defensive coordinator Jody Sears for three seasons.

Prior to his stint at Army, Niekamp spent two seasons at his alma mater Illinois State, coaching outside linebackers in 1999 and defensive tackles in 1998. He was an All-Gateway Conference selection in 1996 and 1997, when he played as a defensive lineman, finishing his career with 170 tackles. That figure included eight quarterback sacks and 22 tackles-for-loss.

Niekamp was team captain as a senior and was a regular member of the Athletic Director’s Honor Roll during his undergraduate days at Illinois State. He graduated from Illinois State in 1998 with a bachelor’s degree in exercise science.

A native of Stevens Point, Wis., Niekamp was selected as a National Strength and Conditioning All-American in 1997. In high school, he played in the Wisconsin All-Star Shrine Classic. He and his wife Tracy have two sons, Tye Dalton (6) and Dexter Kole (4), and daughter Brooke Ryan (3).

Rich Rasmussen

Tight Ends
Recruiting Coordinator

Third Season

Rich Rasmussen made the move to Washington State with Cougar Head Coach Paul Wulff in December 2007, after the two worked together as members of the Eastern Washington Eagles staff for 12 years. Rasmussen, now in his third year at WSU serving as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator, had spent the previous eight years as an assistant for Wulff.

Rasmussen began coaching at Eastern Washington in 1996 as a student assistant coach on defense, then helped with the offensive line in 1997. He coached running backs in 1998 before taking over as tight ends coach in 1999, a position he held through the 2007 season. During his stint at Eastern Washington he spent time as director of football operations, recruiting coordinator, team travel coordinator and summer camp coordinator, in addition to his coaching duties.

Throughout his tenure overseeing tight ends at Eastern Washington, Rasmussen coached six different players to All-Big Sky honors, including Tim Calhoun, who was a three-time honoree, including the 2002 Big Sky Freshman of the Year by Dopke.com. He oversaw the development of Dan Curley, a 2002 All-America honorable mention by Football Gazette and was a fifth round draft pick (148th overall) by the St. Louis Rams in the 2003 NFL Draft.

While at Eastern Washington, Rasmussen earned both his undergraduate and graduate degrees. He received his bachelors of science degree in physical education in 1998, and then completed his master's degree in athletic administration in 2000.

Rasmussen received an associate degree from Tacoma Community

College in 1997 and is a 1983 graduate of Lincoln High School in Tacoma, Wash. He coached at Bellarmine Prep and Mt. Tahoma High Schools prior to joining the EWU staff.

A native of Tacoma, Wash., Rasmussen and his wife, Teri, have two sons, Josh (13) and Jacob (10).

Malik Roberson

Defensive Line

Third Season

Malik Roberson made the move to Washington State University with Paul Wulff in December 2007, after spending eight years at Eastern Washington University, and is in his third season working with the Cougar defensive linemen.

He spent his first two seasons as an Eagle student assistant working with defensive linemen, then six years as the defensive line coach.

Throughout his time at EWU, Roberson coached nine players to All-Big Sky Conference honors, including 2006 defensive tackle Keith Grennan, who signed a free agent contract with the San Diego Chargers following his time at Eastern Washington. In 2007 all four starting defensive linemen earned all-conference honors, including second-team All-American Greg Peach. In 2004 three of his defensive linemen earned All-Big Sky Conference honors, including first team selection Tom Finnerty. EWU finished that season ranked 38th in the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision in rushing defense, allowing just 137.0 yards per game.

Roberson is no stranger to the WSU campus, spending three seasons in Pullman before transferring to Central Washington. He redshirted at WSU as a freshman in 1989, then played for the Cougars during the 1990 and 1991 seasons, seeing action as both a linebacker and defensive lineman. He was a teammate of current Cougar co-defensive coordinator Jody Sears during his first two years in Pullman. At Central Washington, he earned first-team all-conference honors in 1994 and was co-captain of the 1995 squad that won the NAIA Championships, finishing 10-3-1.

Injuries late in his career impacted Roberson's opportunity to continue his football career. He was oft-injured during his senior year at CWU and attended the NFL combine following his final season, but a neck injury ended his professional aspirations.

Roberson is a 1989 graduate of Lewis and Clark High School in Spokane and spent three seasons coaching the Tigers linebackers, first in 1992 and 1993 between his Cougar and Wildcat careers, then again in the fall of 1999 before joining the EWU staff.

Roberson, who finished his degree at Eastern Washington, was born in Spokane, Wash. He and his wife Ondria have one son, Nick (19), and twin daughters Madison and Makayla, who were born in December 2008.

Jody Sears

Co-Defensive Coordinator
Cornerbacks

Third Season

Jody Sears, a 1991 graduate of Washington State University and former college teammate of Cougar head coach Paul Wulff, is in his third year as co-defensive coordinator and cornerbacks coach. Sears returned to his alma mater after five years at Eastern Washington University, where he was Wulff's defensive coordinator.

During his stint with the Eagles, he coached safeties, linebackers and defensive ends. In 2005 Eastern's defense finished 15th nationally in pass efficiency defense and spent most of the year in the top five. The Eagles were 45th in scoring defense in 2005 and his 2004 defense set a school record with nine sacks against Weber State.

During his EWU tenure, Sears coached seven players to All-Big Sky Conference honors, including 2007 first-team pick defensive end Greg Peach. Peach, who ranked 11th nationally in sacks, was also a second-team All-America selection.

Prior to uniting with Wulff at EWU, Sears was an assistant coach at the United States Military Academy in West Point, N.Y. He served three years on the Black Knight staff, including the 2001 and 2002 seasons as cornerbacks coach. In 2000, during his rookie year with Army, he assisted with the defensive line.

Sears coached at St. Ambrose University in 1998 and 1999, assuming responsibilities as the defensive coordinator for the Fighting Bees, who were coached by Todd Sturdy, now WSU's offensive coordinator. Also serving on that staff was former Cougar assistant coach Timm Rosenbach.

Following a brief coaching stint at the high school level, Sears served as a graduate assistant at Iowa State, where he helped coach defensive backs and wide receivers from 1994-96. There he was reunited with former WSU coach Jim Walden, who was in his final season coaching the Cyclones. Sears received his master's degree at Iowa State in 1996.

Sears lettered twice for the Cougars after walking on as a wide receiver. Like Wulff, he played under head coaches Jim Walden, Dennis Erickson and Mike Price during his tenure with the Cougars. He saw limited field duty during the early portion of his Cougar career, then lettered his final two years and finished with 11 career receptions for 118 yards. Sears also served as the holder for All-America placekicker Jason Hanson on field goal and extra point attempts during his senior year.

Sears was born Oct. 21, 1967. He is from Pullman, Wash., and graduated from Pullman High School in 1986. He and his wife Molly have five children, Weston (20), Hannah Jo (8), J.T. (7), Kylee Ann (5) and Charlie Ray (4).

Todd Sturdy

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks

Third Season

Todd Sturdy is in his third season as Washington State's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. A former head coach at St. Ambrose University, Sturdy joined the WSU staff in 2008 after serving as Paul Wulff's offensive coordinator at Eastern Washington during the 2007 season.

During his one year at EWU where the Eagles went 9-4 and reached the 2008 FCS quarterfinals before falling to eventual champion Appalachian State. Sturdy also guided an offense that set school records for pass completions (287) and touchdown passes (36). EWU finished the 2007 campaign fifth nationally in total offense and eighth in passing offense. Quarterback Matt Nichols was named the Big Sky Offensive Player of the Year while wide receiver Aaron Boyce and offensive lineman Matt Alfred each garnered All-America honors, with Boyce being named to the second team and Alfred the third team.

Prior to EWU, Sturdy was 85-40 in 12 seasons as head coach for his alma mater, St. Ambrose in Davenport, Iowa. The winningest coach in the program's history, his teams won five Mid-States Football Association-Midwest League championships and had a 42-8 league record in his last seven seasons at the helm, including six-straight playoff appearances. In 2006 he was NAIA Region 2 Coach of the Year, with the team going a perfect 10-0 before a first-round, 38-31 double-overtime loss to Morningside in the NAIA Championship playoffs.

His accomplishments at St. Ambrose began in his first season as he guided his team to a 9-1 season with the only loss coming at the hands of eventual national champion Findlay. During his 12 seasons Sturdy coached 64 first-team all-conference players and 28 All-Americans. His players rewrote the offense school records in virtually every category.

Sturdy began his coaching career after his freshman year of college, taking over the Tipton High School sophomore baseball team in the summer of 1987. He continued to coach Tipton baseball for the next four seasons as the head sophomore coach and assistant varsity coach.

Sturdy began coaching football in 1990 as a graduate assistant for St. Ambrose University while student teaching at Assumption High School. In the spring of 1991 Sturdy was named the director of facilities at St. Ambrose University. He then coached the secondary and special teams under Mike Woodley in 1992 and 1993 and was defensive coordinator in 1994.

In 1995 Sturdy was defensive coordinator at SAU under head coach Chuck Schrader. With seven games remaining in the season, Sturdy became interim head coach and was named the permanent head coach in December.

As a player, Sturdy was a quarterback for St. Ambrose University from 1987-90, while he earned a bachelor's degree in history education. In 1988 he was named the team's MVP, and as team captain in 1989, he received the coach's appreciation award.

Sturdy attended Tipton High School, where he played four sports and accumulated 14 varsity letters. He was named all-state as a quarterback and started at quarterback for the South team in the 1986 Shrine Bowl.

Sturdy and his wife Gina are the parents of sons Keegan Joseph (9) and Carson (6), and daughter Kenzington.

Dave Ungerer

Running Backs
Special Teams

First Season

Now in his 22nd season of coaching, Dave Ungerer joined Paul Wulff’s staff in February, 2010, after spending the previous season at Elon University, where his special teams units ranked among the top 50 in four categories, including fifth in kickoff coverage as Elon surrendered just 17.06 yards per return.

From 2007-08 Ungerer served as the special teams coach at Oregon State University. In his first season he worked with All-Pacific-10 Conference placekicker Alexis Serna, who ended his career as the Beavers’ all-time leading scorer and the Pac-10 record-holder with 144 consecutive extra point conversions. The Beaver kickoff coverage team ranked first in the Pac-10 and fifth nationally. In 2008 he coached All-Pac-10 First Team punt returner Sammie Stroughter and second team kick returner James Rodgers. As a unit overall, the Beavers ranked first in the conference in kickoff coverage (18.7 yards) and third in kickoff returns (23.4 yards).

Prior to Oregon State Ungerer spent four seasons at Alabama as the special teams and tight ends coach, working alongside WSU’s current assistant head coach/co-defensive coordinator Chris Ball. During his tenure the Crimson Tide blocked 13 kicks and returned five punts and two kickoffs for touchdowns.

Ungerer’s first stint in the Pac-10 came in 2002 when he spent one season as the special teams/tight ends coach at California. In his lone season, kickoff returner LaShaun Ward ranked third in the nation in average returns, while Mike McGrath and placekicker Mark Jenkins earned All-Pac-10 honors. In addition, Cal’s kickoff return team was third in the nation and first in the Pac-10.

Ungerer arrived at California after two years at Lehigh, where he assisted the program in finishing in the top 10 in the nation both years. Ungerer also spent five years at Maryland, where he coached 1993 honorable mention All-American and first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference punter Scott Milanovich. He began his Maryland career as the strength coach before becoming special teams coordinator/running backs coach, a position he held for three years. Ungerer was on staff at Holy Cross from 1988-91, where the program won three-straight Patriot League crowns and compiled a record of 39-4-1, including a perfect 11-0 ledger in 1991.

Ungerer has also coached at Davidson (1986-87), Northeastern (1985) and served as a graduate assistant at Rutgers (1983-84).

The Edison, N.J., native is a 1980 graduate of Southern Connecticut State University, where he earned a bachelor’s degree in physical education and health. Ungerer and his wife Sylvia have three sons, Dominic, David and Dante.

Shawn Deeds

Coordinator of Football Operations

10th Season

Shawn Deeds is in his 10th season as Washington State’s Coordinator of Football Operations. His responsibilities include future scheduling, team travel arrangements and the management of the football budget.

Deeds also coordinates preseason camp and serves as assistant director of Cougar Football Camp each summer, assists with all on-campus recruiting arrangements and serves as the staff liaison with WSU’s Athletic Foundation, compliance, financial aid, academic services, business, marketing and ticket offices along with any outside agencies involved with the football program.

Deeds began his career as office assistant and assistant to then-head coach Mike Price in 1996, and was promoted to administrative assistant after one year.

A former quarterback for the Cougar football team, Deeds earned two varsity letters playing for Price. After redshirting as a freshman and playing in one varsity game (Temple) the following year, he saw action in eight games as a redshirt sophomore, completing 41-of-100 passes for 599 yards and two touchdowns, and making one start against Arizona. Deeds led WSU to a 30-7 win over California after replacing injured starter Mike Pattinson.

During his senior season Deeds suffered a shoulder injury on the fourth play of the game against Stanford, ending his career. Deeds completed 42-of-102 passes for 619 yards and two touchdowns over the course of his Cougar career.

Deeds is a 1991 graduate of North Kitsap High School, where he earned 10 varsity letters including three in football for head coach Jerry Parrish. He also lettered four times as a forward in basketball and three times as a pitcher/first baseman in baseball.

As a senior at North Kitsap, Deeds completed 85-of-163 passes for a completion percentage of 52.1. He racked up 1,310 yards and 13 touchdowns, tossing only six interceptions. He was named a Seattle Times Red Chip prospect and garnered Northwest Nugget Second Team honors from the Tacoma News Tribune. He was also named All-Olympic League.

A native of Poulsbo, Wash., Deeds and his wife Amber have two sons, Ty and Trevor.

Mike Kramer

Assistant Coordinator of Football Operations

First Season

Mike Kramer joined the Washington State University football staff prior to the 2010 season as the Cougars’ assistant coordinator of football operations.

Kramer had previously served as the head coach at Montana State for seven seasons where he amassed 40 wins and led the Bobcats to three Big Sky Conference championships. He also served as head coach at Eastern Washington, where he compiled a record of 37-32 from 1994-99, including the school’s first outright conference title in 1997. His 77 career wins, 52 of which came in league play, ranked third all-time in conference history, and he is the only coach to win Big Sky Coach of the Year honors at two different schools.

From 2002-07 MSU went 35-26 (.574), including an eight-win campaign in 2006, the school’s highest total since 1984. Kramer also orchestrated five-straight winning seasons, the longest for the program in more than 40 years (1956-64). The Bobcats’ 2006 season also featured the school’s first postseason win and postseason home game since 1984, and a No. 10 final national ranking.

The Colton, Wash., native began his coaching career at his prep alma mater as a student teacher and assistant coach in 1976, helping the team to the state B-11 Championship. The next year, Kramer became a full-time assistant at Helena High, and upon his mentor’s departure to join the MSU staff was elevated to the head coaching position. His highly successful tenure – he led the Bengals to the state title game for the first time since 1958 – was capped with a stint as the winning head coach in the East-West Shrine Game in ’82.

After serving as Helena’s head coach from 1980-82, Kramer joined the Bobcat staff in 1983 as defensive line coach, and a year later was part of a championship squad. In 1985, Kramer assumed defensive coordinator duties. Following the 1986 season, Kramer became a teacher and head football coach at Tacoma Stadium High School, and remained there for two seasons. In 1989, Dick Zornes hired Kramer as Eastern Washington’s offensive line coach.

A 1977 graduate of Idaho, Kramer started 36 of his 44 games on the offensive and defensive lines, including nine games at defensive end as a freshman in 1972. The next year he started seven games at center, and in 1974 and 1975 started at guard.

Mike and his wife Sandi have two daughters, Courtney and Gretchen, a student at Washington State University.

Sheldon Cross

Graduate Assistant

First Season

Sheldon Cross joined Cougar Football as the team’s offensive graduate assistant in January of 2010. Originally from Tacoma, Wash., Cross had previously served as the head football coach at Interlake High School in Bellevue, Wash.

As head coach at Interlake, Cross led his squad to back-to-back playoffs appearances in 2008 and 2009, the first two appearances for the school in 22 seasons. For his efforts Cross garnered Bellevue Reporter Coach of the Year accolades following both seasons, and he was also named Coach of the Year by the Kingco Conference and National Football Coaches Association in 2009. The seven wins by Interlake in 2009 were the most by the school in 23 years.

Prior to taking over as head coach, Cross also worked as Interlake’s offensive assistant for then-head coach Luke Huard, who is now the offensive coordinator at Illinois State. Cross also coached quarterbacks at Iowa Wesleyan in 2005 and was the assistant quarterbacks coach at Peru State (Nebraska) in 2004.

Cross served as the director of the Jason Gesser Elite Quarterback Camp, and has also coached signal callers at a number of different collegiate camps, including WSU, Washington and Illinois State.

He played quarterback at Iowa Wesleyan, starting for two seasons, and went on to play professionally for the Dresden Monarchs in Germany and the Graz Giants in Austria. Cross attended Stadium High School in Tacoma, where he was named All-Narrows League as a senior.

Cross received his bachelor’s in psychology from Peru State. He and his wife Catherine reside in Pullman with their son Wyatt.

Chad Eaton

Graduate Assistant

First Season

A former defensive tackle for the Cougars from 1991-94, Chad Eaton joined the Washington State University football staff as a graduate assistant prior to the 2010 season. Eaton had been involved in private business in the Seattle area since concluding a 10-year career in the National Football League prior to the 2005 season.

While with the Cougars Eaton was named the 1994 Morris Trophy winner as the top defensive lineman in the Pacific-10 Conference, as voted on by the league’s offensive linemen. He was also named first-team All-Pac-10 as a senior, in addition to earning All-America honors from both UPI (second team) and the Associated Press (third team). He was named All-Pac-10 Second Team as a junior, and was selected to play in the East-West Shrine Game and the Hula Bowl following his final collegiate campaign.

Eaton earned three varsity letters with WSU, starting 23 of his 34 games. He recorded 146 tackles (105 solo), including 30.5 tackles-for-loss and 10.5 sacks.

Following a stellar WSU career, Eaton was drafted in the seventh round of the 1995 draft by the Arizona Cardinals. He went on to play professionally for 10 seasons with the Cleveland Browns (1995), New England Patriots (1996-2000), Seattle Seahawks (2001-03) and Dallas Cowboys (2004). Eaton started 77 of 103 career games played, and recorded 364 tackles and 16 sacks.

He played in Super Bowl XXXI with New England, and also garnered AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors while with the Patriots during the 1998 season after recording three sacks during Week 14.

A prep standout at Puyallup High School, Eaton earned three letters and was named all-state on both the offensive and defensive lines.

Eaton earned a degree in social sciences from WSU in 2010. He and his wife Tina have three children: sons Daniel and William, and daughter Adrienne.

Darin Lovat
Football Head Strength Coach

Third Season

Darin Lovat, a native of Albuquerque, N.M., is in his third season as the Cougar Football Head Strength and Conditioning Coach, where he oversees all facets of physical development for the WSU football team.

Going on his 13th season as a strength and conditioning coach at the Division I level, Lovat is certified by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (C.S.C.S.) and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (S.C.C.C.), and is a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Club Coach.

Prior to joining the Cougar family, Lovat spent the 2007-08 season with Boston College as the Eagles' Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach. He was the top assistant for the Boston College football program, coordinated all injury rehabilitation programs and developed programs for all first-year student-athletes.

From 2002-07 Lovat served as the head strength and conditioning coach at Eastern Washington University. He assisted in the development of five Big Sky Conference Championship teams, an NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament appearance and back-to-back Football Championship Division playoff appearances with then-EWU football head coach Paul Wulff.

Lovat also spent time at UCLA from 1999-2002 as the assistant strength and conditioning coach, serving as the top assistant for the football program. He oversaw all aspects of the training programs for 10 nationally-competitive Division I teams, two of which won NCAA titles.

Serving as a graduate assistant at Austin Peay State University from 1998-99, Lovat oversaw all aspects of the training programs for each of the school's 14 varsity sports. He also served as an intern with the Carolina Panthers and as a student assistant strength and conditioning coach at UNLV, assisting with a variety of sports under Mark Phillippi, the US Strongest Man winner in 1996.

Lovat earned his bachelor's degree in fitness management at UNLV, and his master's in exercise science from Austin Peay. He was a four-year letterwinner with the Rebels, playing in 47 consecutive games. He was a two-time member of the Big West Conference All-Academic Team, a two-time recipient of the Rebels' Special Teams Player of the Year award and was a member of the Las Vegas Bowl Championship team in 1994.

Lovat and his wife Ann, a native of Cheney, Wash., have been married for six years and recently had their first child, daughter Eliza. His uncle Tom Lovat was a coach in the NFL for 25 years, and his cousin Mark Lovat is currently an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach with the Green Bay Packers.

Marco Candido
Strength Coach

Third Season

Marco Candido begins his third season as a member of the Washington State University Strength and Conditioning staff, though he is no stranger to the Cougar staff. Prior to spending 2006-08 as Head Football Strength and Conditioning Coach at Drake University, Candido worked at WSU during the 2005-06 season as Intern/Interim Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach.

Many other strength and conditioning positions fill Candido's resume, including stints with the University of Alabama at Birmingham, Arizona State University, Birmingham Steeldogs (Arena Football 2), the University of La Verna and Occidental College.

In 2003 Candido earned a bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Occidental College in Los Angeles, Calif., where he also played running back for the football team and led the Tigers to a conference championship. He earned his master's degree in exercise physiology in 2005 from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

Candido is a member of and certified by the National Strength and Conditioning Association - C.S.C.S., Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches Association - S.C.C.C., and U.S.A. Weightlifting - S.P.C.C.

Kevin Night Pipe
Video Coordinator

10th Season

Kevin Night Pipe is in his 10th season as multimedia services coordinator for Washington State. Night Pipe coordinates videotaping of all WSU athletics, specializing mainly in football practices and game day. Night Pipe is also responsible for tape exchanges, weekly highlights for football and recruiting purposes and supervising six student assistants.

Prior to joining the WSU staff in July of 2001, Night Pipe worked at Northern Arizona as the Lumberjacks' video coordinator from 1999-2001. He was responsible for video production of men's and women's basketball, women's soccer, volleyball and track and field. He also worked with football coaches to produce breakdowns, editing, highlights and special videos. He also produced highlight and drill tapes used for recruiting, coordinated game tape exchanges with opponent video staffs and hired and supervised all student staff.

From 1992-95, Night Pipe served as a student assistant video coordinator at the University of South Dakota. He was responsible for football breakdowns, editing, highlights and special needs, as well as game and practice video production.

Night Pipe earned his bachelor's of science in political science and minored in mass communication at South Dakota. He worked on his master's in educational leadership at Northern Arizona from 1999-2001. A 1987 graduate of Madison High School in Madison, S.D., Night Pipe was voted his team's defensive most valuable player in football in 1986. He and his wife, Jackie, were married in June, 2008, and they have a daughter, Krystal. Additionally they have two boxers, Brutis and Buster.

CONFERENCE OF CHAMPIONS

Washington State University is a member of the nation's leading athletic entity—the Pacific-10 Conference.

Joining July 1, 1962, WSU was the first member to be admitted to the original membership of five. The Pacific-8 Conference was organized July 1, 1959, and originally called the Athletic Association of Western Universities. The original membership included the University of California, USC, Stanford University, the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) and the University of Washington.

The University of Oregon and Oregon State University joined the Pac-8 July 1, 1964.

The association's members formally adopted the name, Pacific-8 Conference, Sept. 3, 1968.

The Pac-8 officially became the Pacific-10 Conference with the addition of the University of Arizona and Arizona State University on July 1, 1978.

The University of Colorado accepted an invitation to join the Pac-10 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the conference. The Buffaloes and Utes will become the 11th and 12th members of the conference.

STANFORD 39, WSU 13

Sept. 5, 2009, PULLMAN – Toby Gerhart rushed for a game-high 121 yards and two touchdowns as the Stanford Cardinal opened the season with a 39-13 victory over host Washington State. Stanford opened the scoirng on a one-yard Gerhart touchdown run but the Cougars responded with a pair of long drives, cutting the lead to 8-3 early in the second quarter. A pair of touchdowns by the Cardinal, one though the air and another on the ground, gave Stanford a 22-3 lead at halftime. WSU opened the second half with an 8-play, 80-yard scoring drive, capped by a five-yard kevin Lopina touchdown pass to Jared Karstetter, the first TD pass of Lopina’s career. Nico Grasu’s second field goal of the game cut the lead to 39-13 after three periods and WSU drew no closer. WSU receiver Daniel Blackledge finished the day with a career-best six catches and 67 yards.

HAWAII 38, WSU 20

Sept. 12, 2009, SEATTLE – Greg Alexander threw for 453 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Hawaii Warriors to a 38-20 victory over Washington State at the Cougar Gridiron Classic presented by Washington’s Beef Producers. Alexander connected on scoring throws of 23 and 73 yards to Rodney Bradley in the first 20 minutes of the contest as the Warriors raced to a 35-0 lead in the first half. WSU found the scoreboard late in the first half has Nico Grasu connected on field goals from 20 and 40 yards in the final 2:03 to trail 35-6 at halftime. The Cougars opened the second half with a 15-play, 84-yard drive, capped by a two-yard James Montgomery touchdown run, the first of his Cougar career. A four-yard touchdown run by Kevin Lopina in the fourth quarter closed out WSU’s scoring. Montgomery ended his night with 118 yards rushing and the score, while Jeffrey Solomon had six catches for 71 yards. Greg Salas had seven catches for 195 yards and a score for Hawaii, while Bradley had seven catches for 150 yards and two touchdowns.

WSU 30, SMU 27 (OT)

Sept. 19, 2009, PULLMAN – Alex Hoffman-Ellis and Myron Beck each had interception returns for touchdowns and Nico Grasu’s 39-yard field goal in overtime capped a 30-27 come-from-behind victory as Washington State defeated SMU. SMU scored the game’s first 17 points and led 27-13 with just over 10 minutes remaining in regulation before a furious Cougar rally. Beck stepped in front of a Bo Levi Mitchell pass and raced 67 yards with 10:07 left to bring WSU with seven at 27-20. Getting the ball on its own 20 with 2:03 left, Marshall Lobbestael orchestrated an 80-yard, 11-play drive in 1:35, tying the score when he connected with Jared Karstetter for a seven-yard strik, forcing overtime. On SMUs first play, Chima Nwachukwu intercepted a Mitchell pass in the back of the end zone then three plays later, Grasu connected on the game winner. It marked the first time since the 1987 season WSU had two interception returns for touchdowns in the same game. SMU receiver Emmanuel Sanders hauled in 18 passes for 178 yards in a losing effort.

USC 27, WSU 6

Sept. 26, 2009, LOS ANGELES – Freshman Matt Barkley threw for 247 yards and two touchdown as the USC Trojans jumped to a 20-0 lead in the first quarter en route to a 27-6 victory over Washington State. Barkley threw touchdown passes of 57 and 29 yards to Danian Williams and Brice Butler, respectively, to put the Trojans ahead early. The Cougars defense settled down late in teh first quarter and held USC to just seven points over the final three periods. Midway through the second quarter, true freshman Jeff Tuel made his Cougar debut and led WSU on a 19-play, 58-yard drive that lasted 8:35 and stalled with a missed field goal at the half ended. Tuel showed little signs on inexperience as he led the Cougs on fourth-quarter, 13-play, 71-yard drive capped by a Dwight Tardy two-yard touchdown run. Tuel finished the night going 14-22 for 130 yards and an interception. Freshman Gino Simone was Tuels favorite target, collecting eight passes for 83 yards, both season highs.

OREGON 52, WSU 6

Oct. 3, 2009, EUGENE – Lemichael James rushed for 81 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Nol 16 Oregon Ducks to a 52-6 victory over Washington State. James led a strong ground attack for the Ducks as they piled up 318 rushing yards and six touchdowns. Oregon jumped out to a 42-0 halftime lead as James scored two first-quarter touchdowns on runs of 26 and three yards. The Cougars found the scoreboard in the third quarter as Marshall Lobbestael scored on a one-yard run. Lobbestael came on in the first quarter in relief of freshman starter Jeff Tuel, who was starting his first career game and left with a hip pointer after being sacked. Also starting their first career game for WSU was true freshman Alex Reintouer at left guard. Duck quarterback Jeremy Masoli finished his night with 52 yards and a score on the ground and 116 yards in the air with a touchdown pass to Ed Dickson.

ARIZONA STATE 27, WSU 14

Oct. 10, 2009, PULLMAN –Danny Sullivan ran for one touchdown and threw for another as Arizona State relied on the Pacific-10's best defense to beat Washington State 27-14 on Saturday. Kyle Williams had 13 catches for 126 yards and a touchdown as Arizona State (3-2, 1-1 Pac-10) beat WSU for the sixth-straight time. The Sun Devils won despite suffering three interceptions and losing three fumbles in unseasonably cold, windy conditions. Washington State (1-5, 0-4) managed only 181 yards, 99 of them on the longest touchdown pass in school history. But it was their closest conference loss so far. Embattled quarterback Danny Sullivan played most of the game for Arizona State, although Brock Osweiler got some plays. Sullivan completed 19 of 29 passes for 169 yards.

CALIFORNIA 49, WSU 17

Oct. 24, 2009, BERKELEY – Jahvid Best rushed for a game-high 159 yards and two touchdowns to lead California past Washington State 49-17 in front of 54,738 at Memorial Stadium. Best opened the scoring with a 27-yard touchdown reception from Kevin Riley on the games second play. The Golden Bears built a 28-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 35-3 before two Cougars touchdowns within a five-minute span of the second quarter cut the halftime lead to 35-17. Jeff Tuel hooked up with Johnny Forazni for a long 68-yard scoring play. Following a defensive stop, Tuel found another Gino Simone for a 19-yard scoring play. Tuel ended his day with 354 passing yards, the most by a true freshman since Drew Bledsoe threw for 385 yards in 1990. Forzani finished with 116 receiving yards, the most by a Cougar receiver this year.

NOTRE DAME 40, WSU 14

Oct. 31, 2009, SAN ANTONIO – Jimmy Clausen threw for 268 yards and two touchdowns while Robert Huges rushed for a game-high 131 yards and a touchdown as Notre Dame defeated Washington State 40-14 during the San Antonio Showdown Halloween night. Clausen completed 22 of 27 passes before leaving the game midway through the third period. The Irish led 23-0 in the first half before the Cougars found the scoreboard on a Jeff Tuel to Jared Karstetter 11-yard scoring pass. The two combined for WSU’s other touchdown, this time an eight-yard strike in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring. Irish wide receiver Golden Tate collected 141 yards of total offense, gaining 61 and a score on the ground while adding another 80 on four catches and a touchdown. WSU senior Dwight Tardy rushed for a season-high 72 yards on eight carries. Defensively, senior linebacker Jason Strip-ling, playing in his home state of Texas for the first time as a collegian, posted a career-high of 13 tackles.

ARIZONA 48, WSU 7

Nov. 7, 2009, TUCSON – Trevor Cobb took the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown and the Arizona Wildcats never looked back en route to a 48-7 victory over Washington State. Arizona led 34-0 at halftime as it scored on a pair of one-yard runs by K. Antolin and N. Booth along with a 28-yard touchdown pass from Nick Foles to T. Turner. In the third quarter WSU punter Reid Forrest connected on a 6-1yard punt only to see it returned 86 yards for a score by William Wright. Jared Karstetter and Marshall Lobbestael provided the high-light for the Cougars as the two conected for a 64-yard touchdown pass midway through the fourth quarter to close out the scoring. For the game the Wildcats rushed for 294 yards and put up 471 yards of total offense. Senior Dwight Tardy's 44 rushing yards pushed him over the 2,100-mark and into eighth on WSU's all-time rushing list.

UCLA 43, WSU 7

Nov. 14, 2009, PULLMAN –Danny Sullivan ran for one touchdown and threw for another as Arizona State relied on the Pacific-10’s best defense to beat Wash-ington State 27-14 on Saturday. Kyle Williams had 13 catches for 126 yards and a touchdown as Arizona State (3-2, 1-1 Pac-10) beat WSU for the sixth-straight time. The Sun Devils won despite suffering three in-terceptions and losing three fumbles in unseasonably cold, windy conditions. Washington State (1-5, 0-4) managed only 181 yards, 99 of them on the longest touchdown pass in school history. But it was their closest conference loss so far. Embattled quarterback Danny Sullivan played most of the game for Arizona State, although Brock Osweiler got some plays. Sullivan completed 19 of 29 passes for 169 yards.

OREGON STATE 42, WSU 10

Nov. 21, 2009, PULLMAN – Jacquizz Rodgers rushed for a game-high 165 yards and two touchdowns while Sean Canfield threw for two scores as No. 20 Oregon State defeated Washington State 42-10 at Martin Sta-dium. The Beavers sturck first when Canfield found Damola Adeniji for an 11-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter. The Cougars answered on a 29-yard field goal by Patrick Rooney. Just before halftime the WSU cut the lead to 21-10 as Dwight Tardy, playing his final game at Martin Stadium, pushed across a one-yard touchdown run. Markus Wheaton increased the OSU lead with a 10-yard run late in the third quarter while Rodgers added a 39-yard scoring dash early in the fourth. For the game WSU sophomore Jared Karstetter tied a career-high with six receptions, for 72 yards, while linebacker Alex Hoffman-Ellis had a Cougar season-high 15 tackles.

WASHINGTON 30, WSU 0

Nov. 28, 2009, SEATTLE – Washington State’s two-game winning streak over Washington in the Apple Cup came to an end as the Huskies posted their first shutout in 45 years with a 30-0 victory. Jake Locker threw for 196 yards and a touchdown – a 50-yarder toJermaine Kearse in the second quarter – and ran for another 94 yards and a score, leading the Huskies to their first win at home since 2003. After struggling to get the running game going in the first half, the Huskies rushed for 212 yards in the second half, more than the Cougars’ offensive total of 163 yards for the game. Locker had 82 yards on the ground after halftime, while running back Chris Polk added 97. The freshman finished the game with 130 yards and a touchdown. With WSU freshman quarterback Jeff Tuel out (sprained right knee), Kevin Lopina started the game, but both he and Marshall Lobbestael were knocked out of the game, forcing backup punter/fourth-string quarterback Dan Wagner to take the final four snaps of the first half. Lobbestael returned in the second half, and he completed 9-of-22 for 71 yards.

ALEX BRINK ARA SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD

Former Washington State quarterback Alex Brink was the 2007 recipient of the ARA Sportsmanship Award, presented annually by the Awards and Recognition Association. The national award is presented each year to the NCAA Division I college football player who most exemplifies sportsmanship on and off the field.

Brink was selected from 10 finalists representing schools across the country. Previous winners of the award include Carolina Panthers running back DeAngelo Williams (Memphis) and St. Louis Rams running back Brian Leonard (Rutgers).

Brink, who ended his career as WSU's career record-holder in passing yards, touchdowns, completions, attempts and total offense, was also one of 15 recipients of the National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award and a finalist for the Draddy Award, entitling him to an $18,000 postgraduate scholarship. The Draddy Award annually recognizes an individual as the absolute best in the country for his combined academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

Brink was a two-time finalist for the Wuerffel Trophy, which honors the college football player who best combines exemplary community service with outstanding academic and athletic achievement.

WSU 14, BROWN 0

A crowd of 10,000 was on hand at the Pasadena Rose Bowl January 1 to watch as undefeated Washington State took on eastern power Brown University in the first of the continuous Rose Bowls. WSU used third and fourth quarter touchdown runs by Ralph Boone and Carl Dietz to shutout the Bruins 14-0. Brown entered the game a two-to-one favorite, despite a modest 5-3-1 record. The Bruins’ 3-0 win over Yale was the key accomplishment that earned the Rhode Island team an invitation to play in the Rose Bowl. A cold spell, followed by a heavy rain and some snow for three days prior to the game, turned the playing field into a sea of mud that slowed both teams. Brown came close to scoring twice in the first half, but each time Washington State’s defense, which had allowed just one field goal and one touchdown all season, rose to the task and halted the Bruins short of the goal line, once at the four yard line. Bruin star Fritz Pollard gained just 47 yards in 13 carries. Pollard later became the first black named to a Walter Camp All-America team and was the first black head coach in the National Football League. In the second half WSU’s size advantage began to pay off as the Cougars took command, scoring once in each quarter. WSU’s preparation for the game had been, to say the least, odd. Coach William “Lone Star” Dietz, out of the Carlisle Indian School, and his Cougar squad served as extras in the football film “Tom Brown of Harvard” each morning, then practiced for the bowl game during the afternoon. Each WSU player earned $100 for the 14 mornings of movie work. During practice sessions, Dietz appeared in his “classic” coaching attire: a silk hat, Prince Albert cutaway coat, striped pants, yellow gloves, and a walking stick. Originally known as the Pasadena Tournament of Roses East-West game (it was 1923 when the real Rose Bowl facility was completed that the name changed), the WSU-Brown game was played at Tournament Park.

Washington State University’s undefeated 1915 team met eastern power Brown University in the 1916 Rose Bowl and won 14-0, completing an undefeated season. The 1916 game was the first of the continuous Rose Bowl contests.

ALABAMA 24, WSU 0

The Alabama Crimson Tide used a second-quarter blitz, including touchdown runs of one and 43 yards by quarterback Monk Campbell, to post a 24-0 win over previously undefeated Washington State in the 17th Rose Bowl game, viewed by 65,000 fans. Alabama’s coach was Wallace Wade, who had been a member of the Brown University team that lost to WSU in the 1916 Rose Bowl. Wade, during his career, coached in five Rose Bowls.

“Babe” Hollingbery’s fifth Cougar team went a perfect 9-0-0 to earn a Rose Bowl berth in 1930, including a 6-0 mark during the Pacific Coast Conference schedule. Included in the list of Cougar victims were California 16-0, USC 7-6, Washington 3-0 and Villanova 13-0. Two members of the WSU team later earned recognition in the College Football Hall of Fame, Mel Hein and Glen “Turk” Edwards.

#14 BYU 38, #20 WSU 36

Three games in one was more than the 52,000-plus fans at San Diego's Jack Murphy Stadium paid for, but three games is what they saw as the Brigham Young Cougars held on to defeat the Washington State Cougars 38-36. The BYU squad won the first game, a 31-minute affair that generated a 31-7 lead for the team from Provo. The next 25 minutes just as convincingly belonged to WSU 29-7. In the end, however, the game belonged to BYU as much for defense as anything. They stopped the Pullman team with just over three minutes to play by forcing a punt, then ran out the clock to preserve the win. Jim McMahon, in his last collegiate game, completed 27 of 43 passes for 342 yards and three touchdowns. More importantly, he did not throw an interception. The WSU Cougars used the running of Don LaBomme and quarterback Ricky Turner to baffle the BYU team, especially in the second half. Turner gained 92 yards in 12 carries and scored twice, while LaBomme added 79 yards in 14 carries and scored once. Robert Williams and Mike Martin also scored for the Cougars. WSU's failure on a two-point conversion late in the third quarter, an interception BYU's Ron Holmoe returned 35 yards for a touchdown on the third play of the third quarter, and a key sack of Casper on WSU's last possession loomed big in a game that had numerous turning points.

#18 WSU 24, #14 HOUSTON 22

Washington State scored 24 second-quarter points and forced a last-second Houston turnover in notching a 24-21 win over the Texan Cougars Christmas Day. The bowl appearance was WSU's second of the 1980s and evened the Cougars bowl record to 2-2. In a close game there are many heroes, but for WSU, none stood out more than senior Victor Wood. He picked up a fumble early in the second quarter and zipped five yards for a touchdown that put his Cougars ahead 7-3. On WSU's next possession, Wood caught a 15-yard scoring pass from Timm Rosenbach to put WSU up 14-3 and well on its way to a bowl victory viewed by a national ABC-TV audience. Wood's heroics were catching as WSU added a Jason Hanson 33-yard field goal and another touchdown, this one by Rosenbach, before halftime to put Washington State in command 24-9. WSU limited the Texas visitors to just five first half firstdowns, 46 yards rushing, and 77 yards passing before intermission. The Cougars picked off two Houston passes, one each by Shawn Landrum and Vernon Todd. In the end, however, it was Tuineau Alipate's hard hit that forced a Houston fumble recovered by Artie Holmes at the WSU five yard line. James Dixon was the recipient of Alipate's jarring tackle after catching a David Dacus pass over the middle that appeared for a moment to set up a potential game-winning score by Houston. The Cougars then controlled the ball for the final 2:44, with a key six-yard Rosenbach to Tim Stallworth pass giving WSU the much-needed first down just before the game ended.

#18 WSU 31, UTAH 28

Perhaps no college bowl game following the 1992 gridiron season was more offensive minded than the Copper Bowl matchup between WSU and Utah, but after all the running and passing that accounted for more than 1,100 yards, the deciding play was a 22-yard field goal by WSU's Aaron Price. The Cougars scored 21 unanswered points in the first quarter and one additional score just before halftime for a 28-14 lead. WSU then held on until Price gave them their final lead with 5:08 to play. Even then, they had to watch anxiously as Chris Yergensen's 20-yard chip shot sailed wildily to the left with 3:18 remaining. Though the 40,000-plus fans left the stadium talking about the offensive plays that stood out, it was WSU's defense in the fourth quarter that made this win possible. The Utes scored twice in the second quarter and added two more scores to pull even with a quarter to play. Both teams then turned to their defenses. The key play came with 6:29 to play when Utah's Frank Dolce avoided a strong WSU rush and hooked up with Henry Lusk on a short sideline pass. John Rushing then stripped Lusk of the ball and Singor Mobley scooped it up at the Utah 36 yard line. Fifteen yards later, at the Utah 21, Mobley was dragged down, setting up the Cougars with great field position. Drew Bledsoe immediately drove the Cougars to the Utah five yard line before turning the scoring chores over to Price. Like he did the closing seconds of WSU's 23-20 win over Arizona in the same stadium early in the season, Price came through with the kick. Bledsoe completed 30 of 46 passes for a school record 476 yards. Phillip Bobo caught TD passes of 87 (equalling a school record) and 48 yards, and Shaumbie Wright- Fair picked up 123 yards rushing and scored on a pair of three-yard line smashes.

#24 WSU 10, BAYLOR 3

The Washington State offense scored on the opening drive of the game and on the last play of the second quarter to provide all the points the Cougar defense needed as WSU held off Baylor's late challenge in a 10-3 win at the second annual Builders Square Alamo Bowl before a crowd of 44,106. Despite some anxious moments in the closing seconds of the game, the Cougar defense made those 10 points stand up by limiting the record-setting Bear offense to eight first downs, 151 yards in total offense and just one field goal. The Cougars did something against Baylor they had not done all season, take the opening kickoff and drive the length of the field for a touchdown. The drive totaled 91 yards, equalling the longest scoring drive of the season, and ended when Kevin Hicks busted through the left side of the line from one yard out to put WSU on top 7-0. The score came six minutes, 32 seconds after the kickoff. WSU's offense provided three more points just before halftime to give the Cougs a 10-0 lead at intermission. Taking the ball after Baylor's Jarvis VanDyke missed his second field goal attempt of the first half, WSU drove from its own 30 yard line to the Baylor 20 yard line, where Tony Truant banged home a 37-yard field goal with two seconds left in the first half. A sideline pass to Jay Dumas for a key first down, then another similar pass to Albert Kennedy put the ball in perfect position for Truant. Davis, named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit six of eight passes on the drive. Davis, who completed 27 of 35 passes for 286 yards, gave Cougar fans a few anxious minutes in the third quarter when he took a hard blow to the back while scrambling out of the pocket. He was able to return one play later and finished the game. Defensively WSU was especially tough in the first half. Baylor came into the game averaging nearly 33 points per game and 382.4 yards per contest. In the first half WSU's defense, led by the game's most valuable defensive player, Ron Childs, limited the Bears to just 41 net yards, 24 rushing and 17 passing. Childs had 10 tackles in the game, including eight solo, of which two were for negative yardage. Only on its last possession did Baylor come close to the WSU endzone, where Todd Jensen, a senior who backed up John Rushing all year, picked off a Jeff Watson pass to halt any Baylor hope of scoring. The bowl victory was WSU's second in the last three years and third in seven years. Joining Childs defensively were Chris Hayes with seven tackles, Mark Fields with six and Chad Eaton with five. Fields and Eaton combined for WSU's only sack, while Torey Hunter also had an interception.

#1 MICHIGAN 21, #8 WSU 16

(January 1, 1998, Pasadena, Calif.): The Washington State Cougars, making their first Rose Bowl appearance in 67 years, pushed national champion and number one ranked Michigan to the last play of the game before falling to the Wolverines 21-16 before 101,219 fans and a world-wide television audience. The victory left Michigan a perfect 13-0 for the season, bumping the Cougars to a 10-2 record. After Michigan thwarted two WSU drives to start the game, the Cougar defense forced a Wolverine punt that would set up WSU's first scoring drive. The Cougs took over on the Michigan 47-yard-line with 6:26 to play in the first quarter. Ryan Leaf completed two passes during the drive, including a 15-yard touchdown toss to Kevin McKenzie with 3:17 left in the first quarter. Rian Lindell's point-after gave WSU the early 7-0 advantage. WSU came close to taking a 14-point lead, but Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson halted a WSU drive in the Michigan endzone when he intercepted a Leaf pass from the 12 yard line. The Wolverine's answering scoring drive began from their own 34-yard-line at the 8:04 mark in the second quarter and ended with a 58-yard pass from Bob Griese to Tai Streets that completed the first half scoring. Early in the second half, WSU took over 99 yards from the endzone after Michigan's Jason Vinson dropped a perfect punt just outside the endzone. Shawn Tims put the finishing touches on WSU's 99 yard drive in nine plays, taking a reverse handoff the final 14 yards. Leaf hit four of five passes in the drive that amassed 73 yards. Lindell's PAT attempt was blocked by Michigan's James Hall, leaving the WSU advantage at 13-7. The Wolverines responded immediately, moving the ball on their next possession to their 39 yard-line to set up another Griese-to-Streets touchdown combination, this time 58 yards. Baker's point-after gave Michigan their first lead, 14-13 with 6:07 left in the third quarter. Michigan then padded their lead with a 14-play, 77-yard drive that ended in Griese's third touchdown pass of the game, a 23-yarder to Jerame Tuman. Baker's extra-point kick increased the Michigan advantage to 21-13 with 11:21 to play. Washington State responded immediately with an eight-play, 49-yard drive that set up a 48-yard field goal by Lindell, cutting Michigan's lead to five points, 21-16 with 7:25 remaining. The Wolverines then put together a 51-yard drive that consumed almost seven minutes off the game clock. When Jay Feely's pooch punt rolled dead at the WSU seven-yard-line, the Cougars' victory hopes were 93 yards and 29 seconds away. After two incomplete passes, the Cougars faced third-and-10 with only 16 seconds left. Leaf then found Nian Taylor along the sideline for a gain of 46, to the Michigan 47-yard-line. After a delay of game penalty, Leaf hit Love Jefferson at the Michigan 25 and the Cougar tight end lateraled to a streaking Jason Clayton, who managed nine more yards before being brought down in bounds at Michigan's 16 yard line with 0:02 on the game clock. Out of timeouts, WSU was forced to try and spike the ball on first-down, but officials ruled that the final two seconds slipped away before the ball was effectively downed, thus preventing WSU's one final shot at a major upset.

#8 OKLAHOMA 34, #7 WSU 14

January 1, 2003, Pasadena, Calif. – Oklahoma's vaunted defense stifled Washington State's high-flying passing attack and captured the 89th Rose Bowl Game 34-14 in front of 86,848 fans New Year's Day. The Sooners broke the game open with a pair of touchdowns inside the two-minute mark of the first half. The first came on a 12-yard touchdown pass from Nate Hybl, the game's most valuable player. Antonio Perkins extended OU's lead to 17-0 with a 51-yard punt return just :42 seconds later. Hybl connected on 19 of 29 passes for 240 yards and two touchdowns. Sooner running back Quentin Griffin carried the ball 30 times for 144 yards. WSU quarterback Jason Gesser finished his career by completing 17 of 34 passes for 240 yards and a touchdown. Sammy Moore provided the game's final highlight, returning an OU kick 89 yards for a score with just 1:15 remaining. Linebacker Teddy Lehman led the Big XII Champions with six tackles, including two sacks, while free safety Erik Coleman recorded 10 tackles and recovered a fumble for the Cougars.

#15 WSU 28, #5 TEXAS 20

December 30, 2003 , San Diego, Calif. – Washington State reached the 10-win plateau for the third time in as many seasons with a 28-20 comeback victory over Texas in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl. Facing a 10-7 halftime deficit, the Cougars rallied to score three touchdowns in the third quarter and take a 26-10 lead into the final stanza. The second half fireworks began with a 54-yard touchdown pass from Matt Kegel to Sammy Moore with just over nine minutes left in the third. WSU used a trick play to get in the end zone once again four minutes later. Kegel lined up under center, but instead of taking the snap, ran in motion to the right sideline, leaving running back Jonathan Smith alone in the backfield. Smith fumbled the snap, but recovered and ran 12 yards for a touchdown. Two Texas possessions later, the WSU defense continued the onslaught when Jason David recovered a fumble and took it 18 yards for the Cougs' final touchdown of the game. Washington State's defense forced a fourth quarter safety to push its total to 28. Moore earned most valuable offensive player honors after converting both of his catches for touchdowns and setting up another with a 51-yard punt return. Sophomore Kyle Basler was named the game's most valuable defensive player after pinning the Longhorns inside their own five on four occasions.

THE CHIEFS

Four of Washington State's early football coaches were graduates of the Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania. They were (far left) Frank Shively (1898-99, 1-1-1 record), (second from left) William "Lone Star" Dietz (1915-17, 17-2-1 record, including Rose Bowl team from 1915), (second from right) Gus Welch (1919-22, 16-10-1 record) and (far right) A. A. Exendine (1923-25, 6-13-4 record).

Mel Hein, arguably WSU’s best football player of all time, has been winning awards since his playing days in the late 1920s. Even after his death in 1992, Hein was collecting awards and recognition.

Hein was an All-American and member of WSU’s 1931 Rose Bowl team. He then went on to an amazing career with the New York Giants. Despite having not played since 1945 and obviously not seen by most of today’s players, coaches and fans, Hein’s legend status lives on.

The latest honor accorded Hein was his selection to the Walter Camp Foundation’s All-Century College Football Team. The 20th century was just drawing to a close in December, 1999, when the who’s who of college football players was announced and there was Hein’s name as one of the three greatest centers to ever play the college game.

In addition, Hein has also been picked to professional football’s all-time team and is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Mel Hein

Mel Hein, a consensus pick as the greatest center in football, was the first player to have his jersey retired at Washington State University.

Hein wore his famous No. 7 throughout his collegiate and professional career.

An All-America pick following the 1930 season, Hein helped lead the Cougars to an undefeated record that year and into the 1931 Rose Bowl Game against Alabama. WSU lost that game 24-0, but WSU’s record in Hein’s three varsity seasons was 26-6.

Besides his All-America selection his senior year, he was an All-West Coast pick after having been named to the All-Coast second team as a junior.

He was also a basketball player, starting at center his junior year for coach Jack Friel’s club.

From WSU it was on to the New York Giants, where he played 15 years. Hein was inducted as a charter member into the National Football League Hall of Fame. He was also inducted as a charter member into the Washington State University Athletic Hall of Fame on Oct. 20, 1978, and is a member of the Washington State Sports Hall of Fame and the Inland Empire Sports Hall of Fame.

Eight times an All-Pro center, he was the NFL’s most valuable player in 1938. He coached four years, both as head coach and as an assistant.

From 1966-67 he was the supervisor of officials for the American Football League.

In 1969, Hein was voted one of the 11 all-time best professional and collegiate football players in a vote conducted in conjunction with professional football’s Centennial celebration.

The Washington State University Board of Regents honored Hein May 14, 1983, with its Distinguished Alumnus Award, the highest award bestowed a Cougar alum.

Hein is also a charter member of The College Hall of Fame, one of three Cougars honored by the National Football Foundation.

In 1999, he was one of three centers named to The Sporting News All-Century team for college players.

1974-78
Jack Thompson

Jack Thompson finished his career in 1978 as the most prolific passer in the history of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Thompson, who was granted a fifth year after missing the 1974 campaign with a knee injury, passed for 7,818 yards for a NCAA record. He became the fourth quarterback in NCAA history to pass for 2,000 yards or more in three seasons.

He established Pacific-10 Conference and WSU records for passes attempted (1,086), passes completed (601) and total plays (1,345). He tied the conference mark for touchdown passes (53) and touchdowns responsible for (63).

Other NCAA career accomplishments by Thompson placed him third in total offense with 7,698 yards, third in pass completions with 601 and tied for fifth with his 53 TD tosses. He became the first junior in the history of the conference to surpass the 5,000 yard barrier in passing.

In 1976 he set a conference record for passing yards with 2,762, completions (208) and touchdown passes (20). He was an All-Pac-8 First Team pick as voted by the coaches, All-West Coast UPI First Team and a second-team AP pick, All-America honorable mention by AP and two-time Pac-8 Player of the Week.

In 1977 he was named to the All-Pac-8, AP and UPI All-West Coast second teams and was named an AP All-America honorable mention.

Prior to the 1978 campaign he was a Playboy All-America pick and appeared on the cover of Street & Smith Magazine. He was All-Pac-10 First Team and UPI All-West Coast Second Team. Following the season he played in the Challenge Bowl and was named MVP, and played in the Hula Bowl. The National Football League scouts voted him to The Sporting News All-America First Team.

Thompson was the third player selected in the 1979 NFL draft, going to the Cincinnati Bengals. He later played for Tampa Bay.

He was only the second football player and the third athlete in WSU history to have his jersey retired.

Elson S. Floyd

President

Elson S. Floyd is Washington State University’s 10th president. He took office in May of 2007 after serving as president of the four-campus University of Missouri System during 2002-2007.

“Excellence, quality, and accountability” are keystones to his administration leading WSU. He puts high priority on WSU being a research leader and having a global presence. Furthermore, he endorses diversity of thought, opinion, perspective, viewpoints, race and ethnicity as characteristics of a world-class university.

Floyd served as president of Western Michigan University from 1999 to 2002, and held several administrative positions at the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, including deanships in student affairs and the College of Arts and Sciences.

Previously, he spent two years as executive director of the state of Washington Higher Education Coordinating Board, the agency responsible for statewide coordination, planning, oversight, policy analysis and student financial aid programs for Washington’s post-secondary education system. From 1990 to 1993, he served as vice president for student services, vice president for administration and executive vice president at Eastern Washington University.

He began his career in 1978 at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he held deanships in the Division of Student Affairs, the General College and the College of Arts and Sciences. From 1988 to 1990, he was assistant vice president for student services for the UNC system office, where he helped develop and articulate student affairs and academic affairs policy for the 16-campus university system.

A native of Henderson, N.C., Floyd holds a bachelor of arts degree in political science and speech, a master of education degree in adult education, and a doctor of philosophy degree in higher and adult education, all from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Floyd and his wife, Carmento Floyd, have two grown children.

Anne McCoy

Senior Associate Director of Athletics/SWA

Veteran intercollegiate athletics administrator Anne McCoy has served Washington State University since 2001 and was promoted from associate director to senior associate director of athletics in 2004. Her appointment to senior woman administrator came in the summer of 2007.

In her capacity as senior associate director of athletics, she is charged with overseeing all aspects of WSU’s athletic budget and supervises several areas with the department including the business office, equipment, computer and football operations, and event management and facility operations. She also serves as a liaison for men’s and women’s basketball.

McCoy serves on several Pacific-10 Conference committees, including the Senior Woman Administrator and Television Committees and on the Budget and Finance, Compliance and Enforcement, Diversity Leadership Initiative Review, Awards Review, Medical Care, and Student-Athlete Advisory committees. She also been appointed to the NCAA Women’s Rowing Committee and is a past vice president of the Pac-10 Conference.

A Wisconsin native, McCoy earned a bachelor’s degree in sports management in 1989 from the University of Massachusetts. While an undergraduate, she worked for the Pittsburgh Penguins professional hockey organization, expanding the club’s season ticket base. McCoy also served an internship as the assistant athletic business manager at the University of Connecticut, and was instrumental in designing and implementing a comprehensive computerized budget-tracking system.

McCoy served in several capacities at the University of Maine from 1989-1995, lastly as associate director of athletics and senior woman administrator. At Maine, she supervised men’s basketball, men’s and women’s soccer, men’s and women’s swimming and softball in addition to the athletic business office, ticket office, retail store and cheerleading staff and operations. She took a similar administrative positive at St. Louis University from 1995-96.

In 1996, McCoy moved west, joining the staff at Portland State University as associate director of athletics and senior woman administrator, and was promoted to senior associate director of athletics in 1998. At PSU, she managed all internal staff and the daily operations of the department, representing the director of athletics as needed. McCoy also supervised men’s and women’s golf, cross country/track and field, and women’s volleyball, soccer, tennis and softball.

McCoy and her husband Brian have two children, daughter Taylor and son Jake.

Ken Casavant

Faculty Athletics Representative

Professor Ken Casavant, a member of the Washington State University family since 1967, currently serves as WSU’s Faculty Athletics Representative to the Pacific-10 Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. For the upcoming academic year he will serve as president of the Pac-10, he also served in the role in 2000-01, and recently served on the NCAA Division I Management Council.

Casavant came to WSU as a graduate research assistant in the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics. He was named an assistant professor in 1971, an associate professor in 1975 and a full professor in 1980.

In 2004, Casavant received the Shalin Excellence award for Leadership for the University, having had the honor several years earlier of giving the Distinguished Faculty Address, the University’s oldest award and also receiving the Sahlin Excellence in Public Service award for the University. In 1979, Casavant received the R.M. Wade award for outstanding teacher in the college of agriculture at WSU, and in 1990, he earned the distinguished WSU Faculty of the Year award. Casavant was elected vice-chair (1991-92) and chair (1992-93) of the WSU Faculty Senate and has been accorded the Distinguished Teacher award by the American Agricultural Economics Association. He was named Distinguished Scholar by the Western Agricultural Economics Association in 2003 for his nationally recognized work as a transportation economist.

During his tenure at WSU, Casavant has served as associate director for the Washington State Transportation Center (1984-87) and the interim Vice-Provost for Academic Affairs and interim Vice-Provost for Research (1998).

The North Dakota native is a 1965 graduate of North Dakota State University, where he earned a bachelor’s degree in agricultural economics. He received his master’s degree from NDSU, followed by a Ph.D., from WSU in 1971.

Ken and his wife Dorothy have two grown daughters, Michele and Colette and one grandson, Raphael.

Bill Moos

Director of Athletics

William H. (Bill) Moos began his duties as Washington State University Athletics Director April 15. Moos, a WSU Distinguished Alumnus Award recipient and former athletics director at the University of Montana and the University of Oregon, was named athletics director by WSU President Elson S. Floyd Feb. 24.

Moos has enjoyed a long and distinguished career in collegiate athletics, most recently as the University of Oregon director of athletics from 1995-2007. While at Oregon he oversaw a 17-sport athletic department that grew to national prominence during his tenure.

Oregon’s annual athletic department budget grew from $18.5 million in his first year to more than $40 million by 2007, becoming 100 percent self-sufficient during that time. Under his direction the Duck Fund donor base increased from 4,930 to 12,290, resulting in an annual gifts increase from $4.1 million to $15.3 million.

Moos initiated more than $160 million in facility improvements while at Oregon. Included in that was the $90 million Autzen Stadium renovation in 2002, which added 12,000 new seats, 32 new suites, a new Club at Autzen and a new press box to the stadium. In his 12 years the Ducks ranked first in Pac-10 football attendance 11 times, reaching 100 percent capacity in each of those seasons.

Additional facility improvements included the opening of the $14.6 million Ed Moshofsky Sports Center and Papé and Kilkenny Fields project, as well as an expansion of the varsity athletic weight room, indoor and outdoor tennis facilities, and renovations to McArthur Court and Hayward Field.

During Moos’ tenure, Oregon athletics captured 13 Pac-10 championships across six different sports. He increased opportunities for women by adding two intercollegiate programs, soccer and lacrosse, and negotiated an all-inclusive shoe and apparel contract with Nike, one of only 14 in the country at the time.

From an academic standpoint during Moos’ tenure, Oregon student-athletes collected 722 academic all-conference selections, 34 Academic All-America selections, nine NCAA post Graduate Scholars and one NCAA Top VIII Award. Moos assumed the duties of director of athletics in July 1995, after five years in the same position at the University of Montana. During his Montana tenure, he created an academic support program and hired its first athletic academic coordinator, developed a facility enhancement plan that created more than $4 million in improvements, and lifted the school’s fund-raising efforts to show a 300 percent increase in private and corporate gifts.

During his Montana tenure (1990-95), he created an academic support program and hired its first athletic academic coordinator, developed a facility enhancement plan that created more than $4 million in improvements, and lifted the school’s fund-raising efforts to show a 300 percent increase in private and corporate gifts.

Academically, Montana student-athletes were equally successful as the athletic department achieved a graduation rate 20 percent higher than the general university enrollment. Under Moos’ watch Montana garnered 269 academic all-conference selections, five Academic All-Americans and two NCAA Post Graduate Scholar winners.

Moos began his athletics career in 1982 as assistant athletics director at Washington State University and also served as the school’s associate director (1988-90). At Washington State, he was director of development for more than five years and associate director for nearly two years, supervising all external operations. Prior to that, he managed and owned private businesses in Washington and Oregon for eight years.

He was a student assistant football coach at Washington State for the 1973 season, then spent part of 1974 in Washington, D.C., serving as a government intern.

Raised on a wheat and cattle ranch in eastern Washington, Moos (1-3-51) attended high school in Olympia when his father served in the governor’s cabinet.

Moos earned his bachelor’s degree in history from WSU and was a three-year letterman in football before concluding his collegiate career by representing Washington State in the 1972 East-West Shrine all-star game in San Francisco. He served as co-captain on the Cougars’ 1972 squad and garnered All-Pac-8 Conference First Team honors.

Moos and his wife Kendra have three daughters: Christa, Brittany and Kaiti; and two sons, Bo and Benjamin.

THE BROADCAST TEAM

Hall of fame announcer Bob Robertson Sr. is in his 44th season calling Cougar football action. When Cougar fans gather and talk about Saturday afternoons in the fall on the Palouse, football and Robertson just naturally become part of the conversation.

The long-time Cougar broadcaster began his association with WSU football in 1964 and with the exception of a three-year period in 1969-71, he’s been calling the Cougar action ever since.

Robertson’s peers have selected him Washington Sportscaster of the Year 12 times, validating what Cougar fans have known for years - he is simply the best. In 1995 he was named the State Broadcaster of the Year.

Robertson was inducted into both the WSU Athletic Hall of Fame and the Inland Empire Hall of Fame in 2001-02, and in August 2004 received the prestigious Chris Schenkel Award at ceremonies held at the College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Ind. At the same time he became the first broadcaster west of the Mississippi to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame - broadcaster division. He is also a member of the Pierce County Hall of Fame.

Bob’s association with WSU runs deeper than just football broadcasts. For 23 years he was the voice of Cougar Basketball, including several NCAA tournament teams. In 1978-79, he was named WSU’s Dad of the Year and he also worked with the WSU Cougar Club on the west side in the 1980s.

Robertson was born in Fullerton, Calif., during spring training of the Seattle Indians of the Pacific Coast League. At the time his father was a player for the Seattle club.

After graduating from Blaine (Wash.) High School, he attended Western Washington University in Bellingham, where he launched his broadcasting career. His first broadcasting exposure came as a young actor for the Canadian Broadcasting Company in Vancouver, B.C., then bloomed while attending college.

In 1948 Robertson signed to play professional baseball, but a year later gave up playing to become the voice of the Wenatchee Chiefs of the Western International League, his first full-time broadcasting opportunity.

- Among his many accomplishments, Robertson has:
- Spent 25 years calling Pacific Coast League baseball in Seattle and Tacoma;
 - Broadcast professional soccer in Seattle, Tacoma and Portland; he was Washington’s Soccer Man of the Year in 1983;
 - Broadcast hockey, boxing, wrestling and hydroplane races
 - Had his “cup of coffee” in major league baseball, broadcasting some Seattle Mariner games in the late 1990s
 - Served as television sports anchor in the Seattle market for 25 years, including time with KSTW (called KNTN 1956-70, then KSTW 1976-83) and KMO (he helped put them on the air);
 - Currently voice of the Spokane Indians baseball team and Pacific Lutheran University basketball;
 - Served as the television voice of Notre Dame football and basketball for two years in the 1950s.

This fall Bob and wife Joanne celebrate their 59th anniversary. They have four children, Hugh, Janna, John and Rebecca, and seven grandchildren. The Robertsons have resided in Tacoma since 1950, with the exception of his stint with Notre Dame.

As much as Robertson is part of Cougar Football Saturday, so is his closing broadcast signature, "Always be a good sport, be a good sport all ways."

Joining Robertson in the broadcast booth for the 10th year is a name familiar very to Cougar football fans, former Cougar head coach (1978-86) Jim Walden. Walden is the third-winningest coach in WSU football history.

Known for his wit and charm, Walden later coached at Iowa State, then in 1995 moved into the broadcasting profession, both in radio and TV, while continuing to live in Iowa.

Walden, who beat every team in the Pacific-10 Conference while at WSU, is perhaps best remembered for resurrecting a struggling program that had three coaches in three years, and for guiding WSU to the 1981 Holiday Bowl, the Cougars’ first bowl appearance in 51 years. Walden, inducted into the WSU Athletic Hall of Fame in the fall of 2009, now lives in Harrison, Idaho.

Patrolling the sidelines and locker rooms is KXLY’s Bud Nameck, who also handles the network’s play-by-play duties during the Cougar men’s basketball season. Nameck served as sports director for at KXLY for 13 years, 1982-95, and was the voice of Cougar football for FOX Sports Northwest for 14 years, 1988-2001.

He is currently the Cougars Sports Radio Network Director and resides in Spokane with his wife Diane and daughter Kelsey.

THE WASHINGTON STATE ISP SPORTS NETWORK

Cougar football games are broadcast live on the radio throughout the Pacific Northwest via the Washington State ISP Sports Network. The 25-station football network - one of the largest in the Pac-10 - reaches from British Columbia to Oregon and can be heard worldwide via the internet and XM Satellite radio. The men’s basketball network includes 17 stations.

The ISP Sports produces the Washington State ISP Sports Network, which also features radio coverage of WSU men’s basketball, baseball, women’s basketball and women’s volleyball, and the U.S. Bank Cougar Coaches Show in the fall and winter seasons.

Cougar football broadcasts begin an hour before kickoff, carry through the game and conclude with post-game interviews with players and coaches.

ISP, founded in 1992 in its corporate home of Winston-Salem, NC, manages corporate marketing opportunities and on-site promotions at WSU football and basketball games as well as oversees sales for all signage at Martin Stadium, Friel Court at Beasley Coliseum and all Cougar competition sites.
